Forword

The Seniors of Mary Help of Christians Academy invite you to join our quest for the true meaning of life. Our search begins in the green years of enthusiastic discovery and hard won experience. Effort has marked our steps in the seeking of true human greatness and we have learned that in its achievement we've only just begun. Yet, we emerge from our first attempts strong and confident and ready to continue our search with surer steps.

SHARING HORIZONS THAT ARE NEW TO US.

Dear Katie,
It was fun knowing you this past year. You are a sweet kid, and I hope you remain as sweet as you are now.

See ya
next year.
Love
Amelia

We follow signs as we begin our lives as mature Christian women. First among these dedicated guides is Our Holy Father, Pope Paul VI, who through his steadfast faith and courageous leadership has set us all on the sure path to life. Bishop Casey is respected as the shepherd of our flock, kindly and fatherly. Father Morris, our superintendent of schools, continually strives to broaden our academic horizons. Father Azzoni is considered a true friend by all the girls of M. H. C. A. and we have all welcomed Father Motta into our happy family.

With them at our sides . . .

Sister Julia, Principal

Reverend Superior Mary, F.M.A.

Every S-ette keeps in her heart a very special place for Very Reverend Mother Ida Grasso, our Mother Provincial. Her visits are always anticipated and welcomed. We give her our love and appreciation for everything she has given us during these past four years.

Sister Julia and all the faculty have given of themselves with that characteristic Salesian cheerfulness and warmth always ready to stop in their busy schedules in order to help, advise or encourage. With them we find a place where there's room to grow . . . and yes, they've helped as we only just begin.

Our Faculty...

Off Guard!

Sister Julia, you look a little windblown, eh!

Sister Mary is once again dramatizing a history lesson.

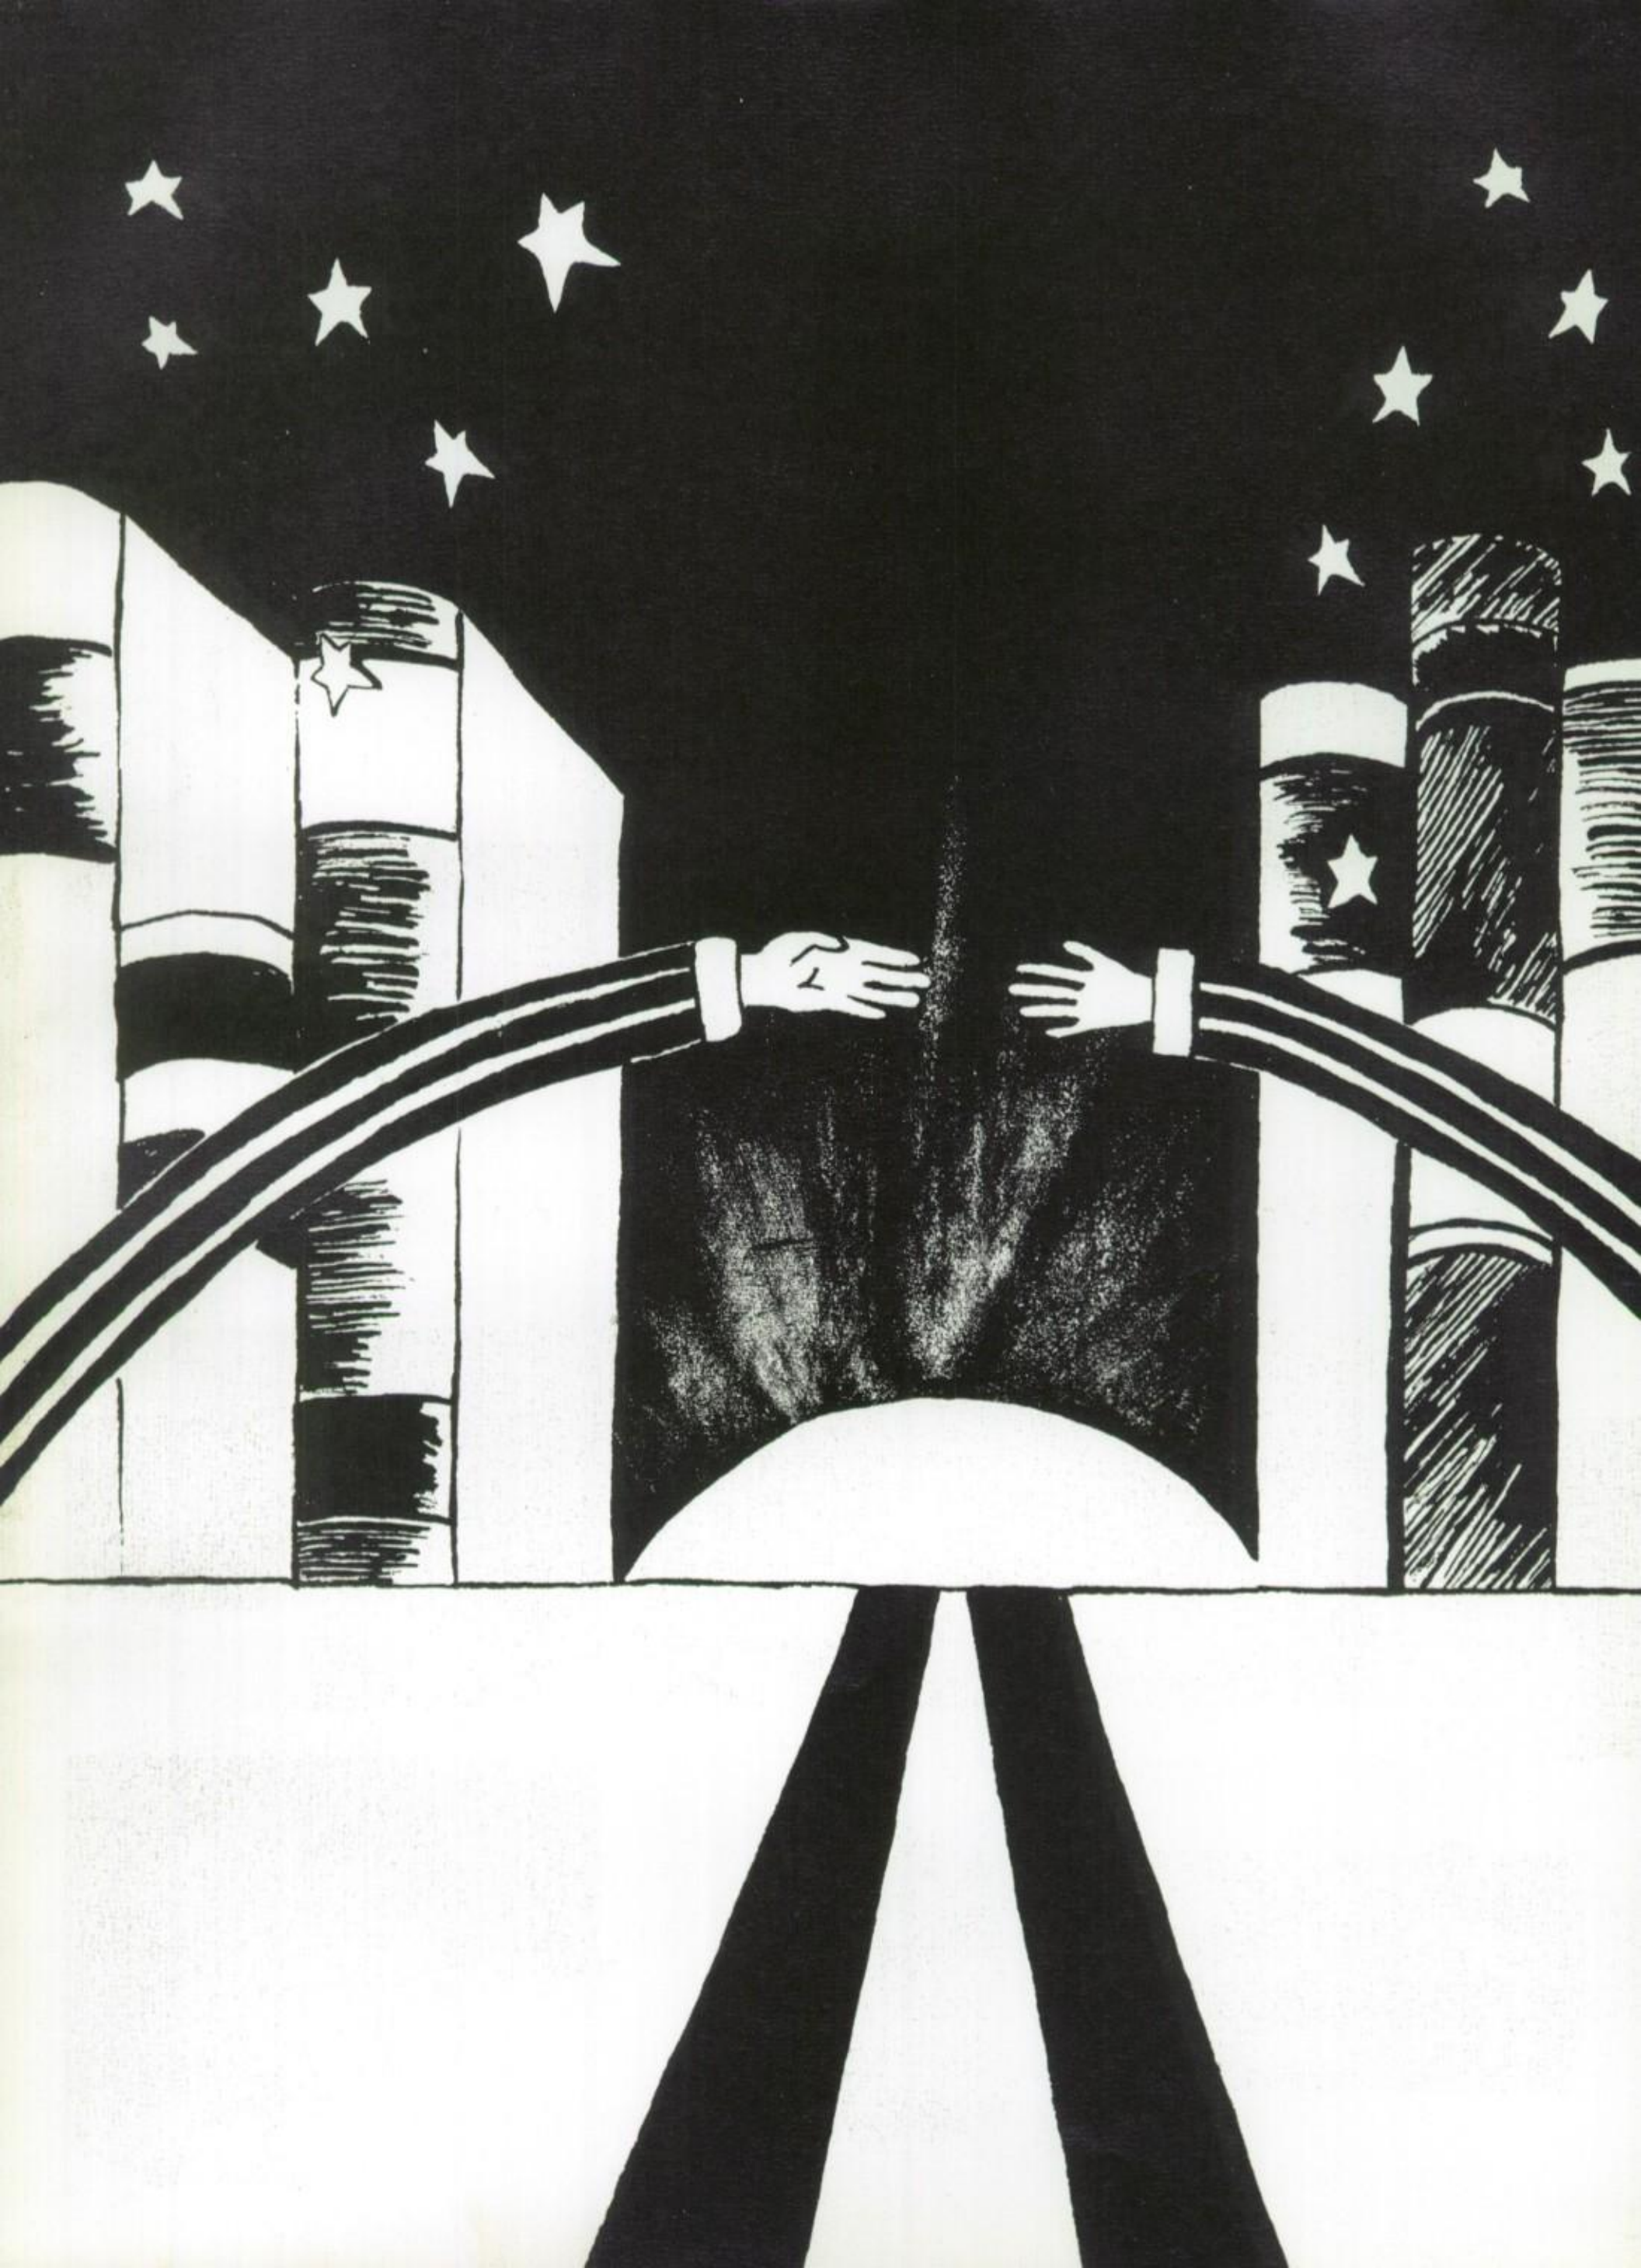

L. Wilkins and C. Squatrito seem enthused about Sister Beatrice's news of a test.

Uh, oh! Sister Ann has R. Albacete.

We think Sister Rose is a little camera shy, but the same can't be said about R. Roy.

A C A D E M I C S

WORKING TOGETHER DAY BY DAY.

Religion

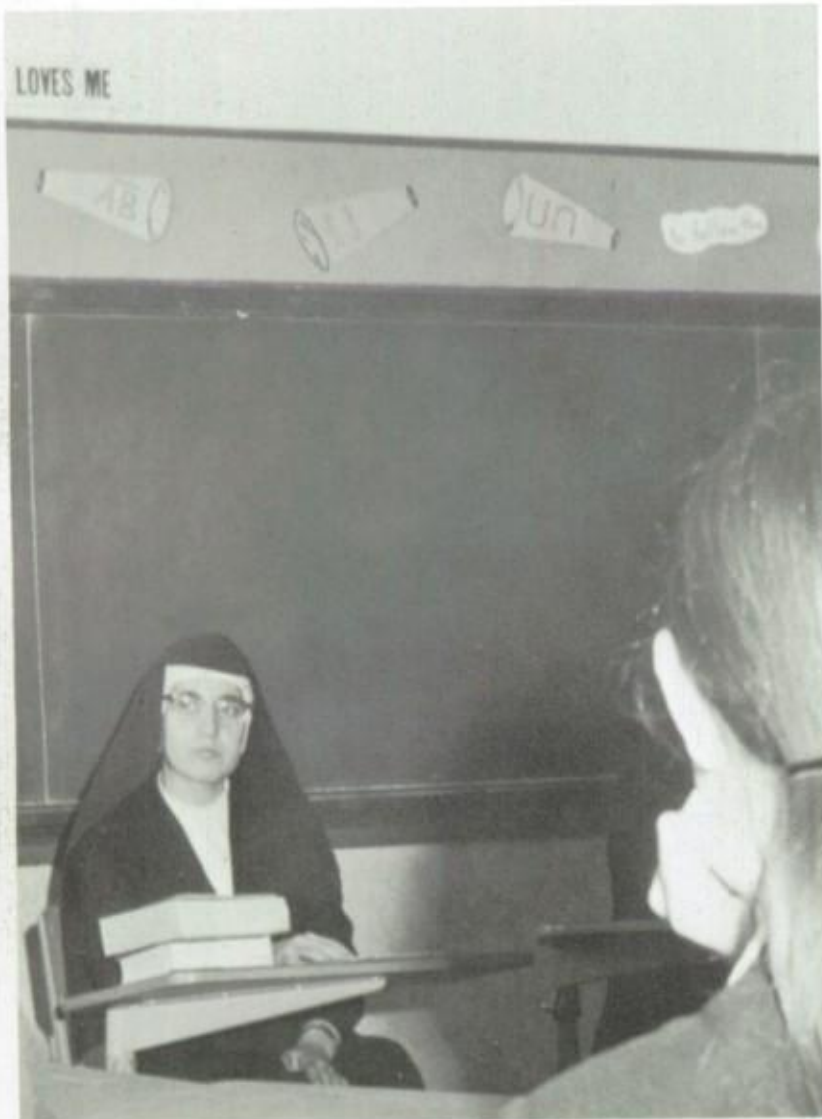

Our religion lessons have left their mark on our outlook on life. Under the capable guidance of Sister Theresa and Sister Mary we have sounded the depths of our Christian faith and with them we have learned that religion taught, lived and loved leads to the fulfilled future towards which we strain.

Symbolic processions are characteristic of Masses here at the Academy. N. Calandriello, J. Holloman and M. Montesdeoca lead the celebrants to the altar.

M. Portillo explains a fine point from the latest bulletin from the Bishop's office while C. Squatrito, D. Saillant, S. DeMarco and L. Radice listen intently.

Sister Mary ponders the deeper meaning behind the discussion taking place in class.

A. Cubilos chats with Father Martin D'Auria who has said Mass for the girls on their general recollection day.

Spiritual values are deepened

N. Frazza explains her religion projects to D. Fowlkes, K. Dunn and O. Ferrito. Getting involved with their lessons has made religion a real thing!

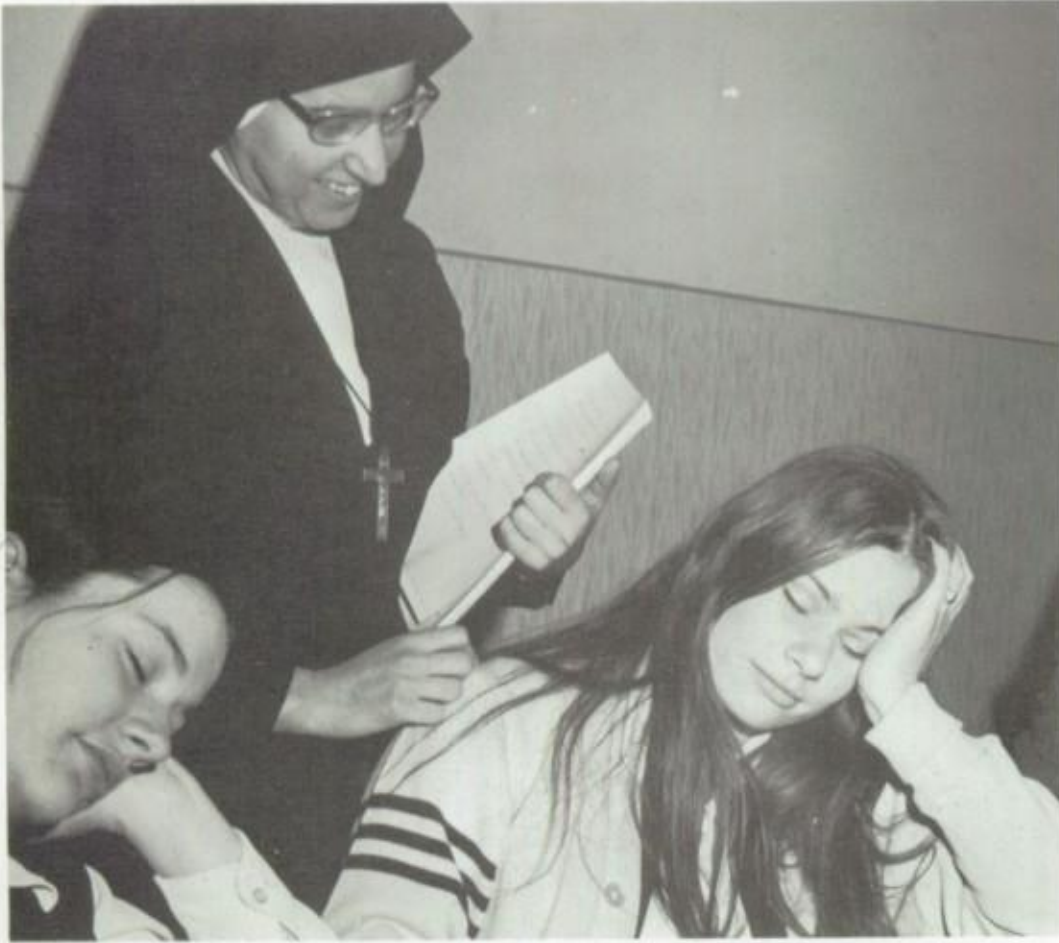

Sister Theresa becomes totally involved as she brings to life the pages of the New Testament.

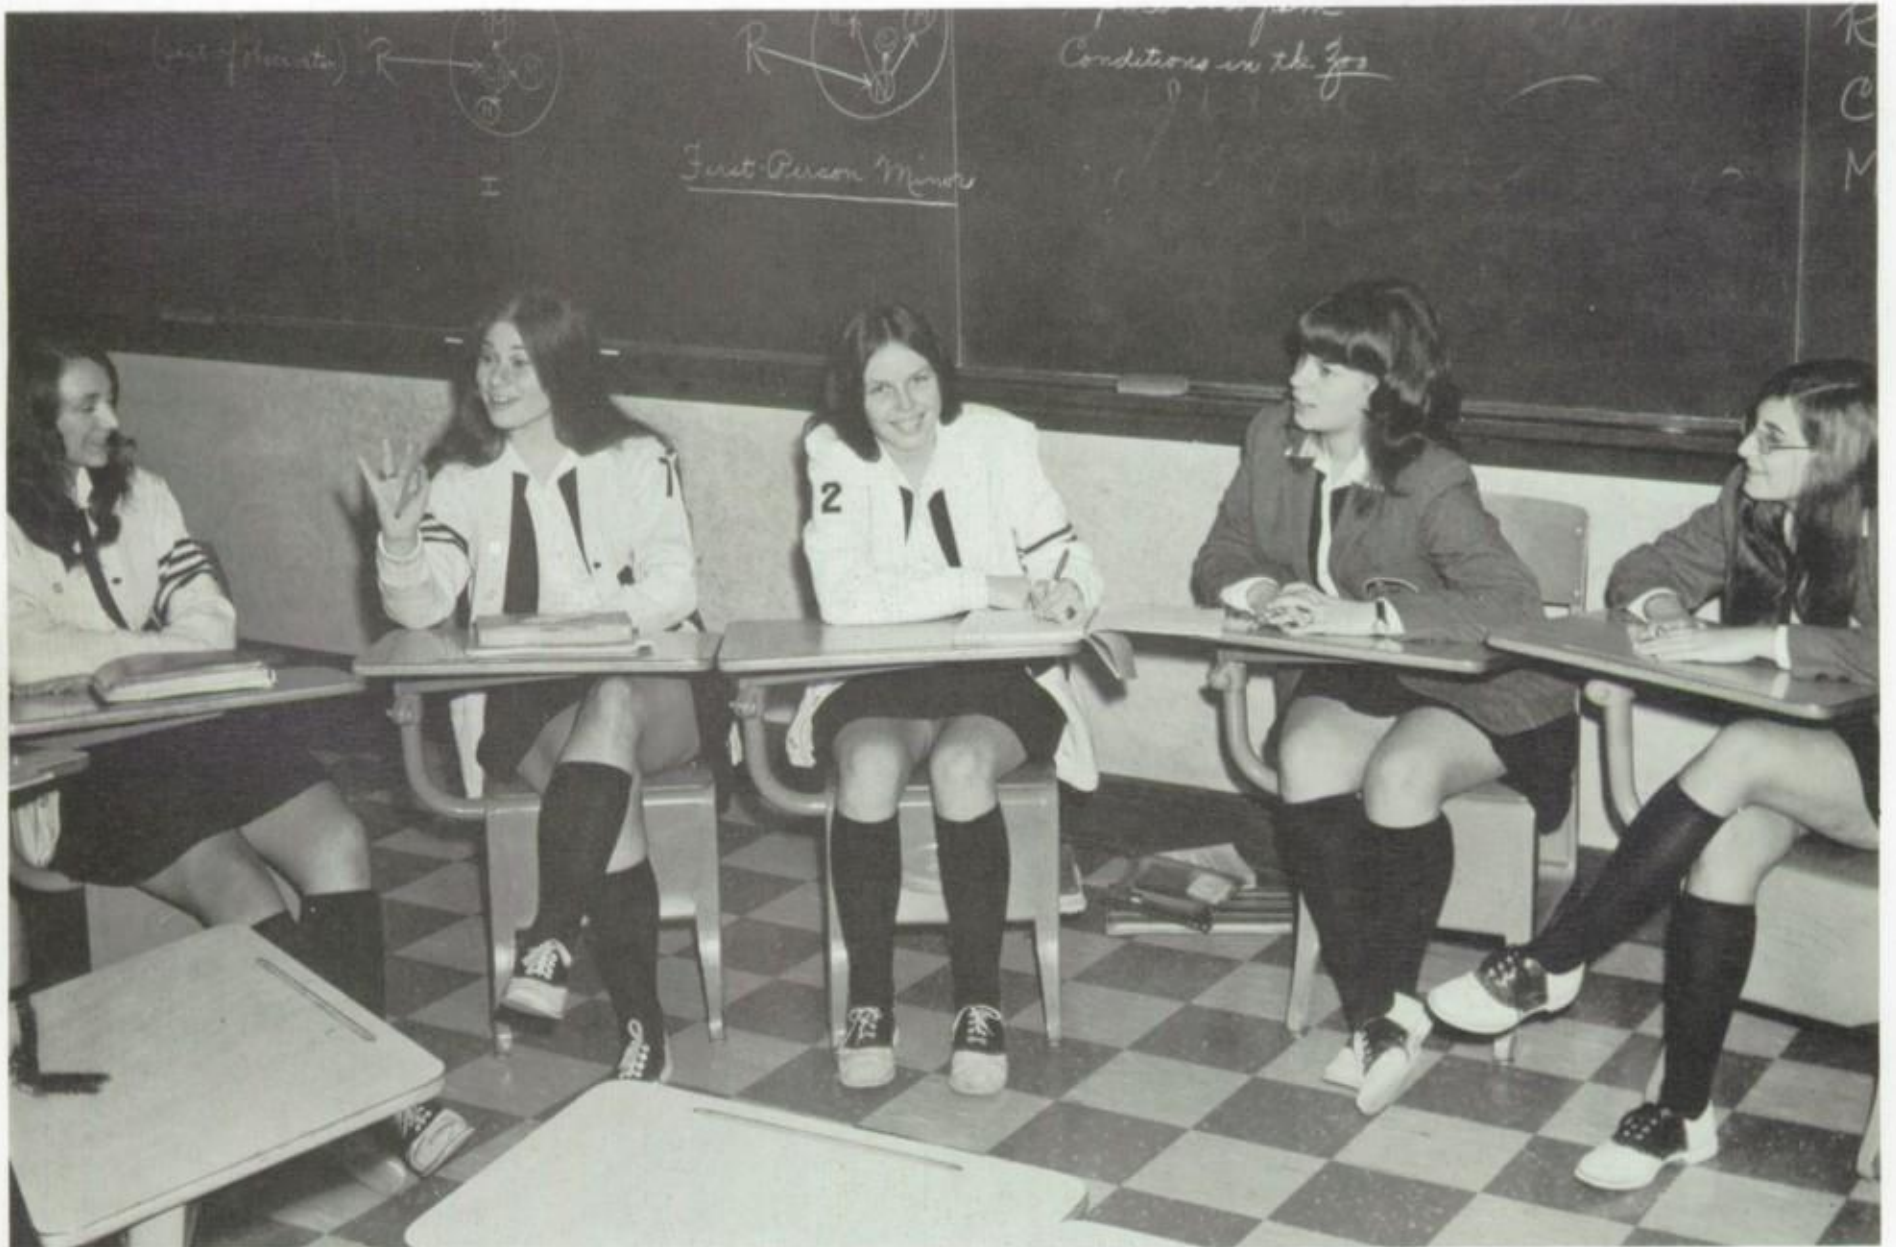

Wrapped in prayer, K. Fox and L. Perigny hold hands during the recitation of the Lord's Prayer.

English

Sister Mary has two sleeping beauties on her hands. L. Perigny and C. Kulik must have played their part in a class skit too realistically.

Broadening our horizons and extending our scope of understanding and knowledge, our English literature classes opened our eyes to the "noble deeds and miserable failings of humanity." With Sister Anita the Freshmen and Sophomores delved into Jane Eyre and The Tale of Two Cities and grew to appreciate Shakespeare's Merchant of Venice. Sister Mary lead the Juniors and Seniors through the labyrinths of Hamlet and Macbeth and prepared the Seniors for college boards while still managing to instill in them sound Christian values.

M. Sanislo smiles indulgently as C. Kulik emphasizes her point in a debate on the Space Program. A. Fitzmaurice, B. Hazen and J. Klepper prepare an answer to the argument.

C. Twitty and E. Tirri are practicing what they just learned about letter writing. D. Passano and L. Tesauo are not taking any chance of being part of their ruse.

T. Vander Meulen, B. Jaouen, R. Van Buren, M. Scanlan, D. Mininni and even Sister Anita are all intent on D. Fico's interpretation of a short story.

Literature is the criticism of life

E. Collado and L. Fierro watch carefully as K. Cingale diagrams the points of view of narrative fiction.

Languages

Sister Victoria, our tiny Italian teacher, supervises the Freshmen as they recite their verbs!

Through our study of languages, we reach out to our fellow man. The principal aim of foreign language study today is to bridge the gap that exists among so many sections of our society. The colorful and captivating cultures of Spain, Italy and France come alive as Sisters Edith, Eileen and Victoria specify their informative and interesting lessons.

Sister Victoria pauses during the correction of our Italian "dissertations."

K. Cingale points out the Italian lesson and awaits the approbation of Sister Mary. The class seems to be interested, so she must be doing a good job.

Seniors V. Fontana, V. Rocco, E. Romeo and M. Chiavola have turned the tables. They now feel proficient enough to deliver a lecture in Italian for the benefit of Sister Victoria.

Sister Eileen confers with S. Straight about her French translations. The rest of the class is busy on a magazine assignment.

French

D. Saillant and C. Winberry look well satisfied as they receive Sister Eileen's commendation.

Talking it over in many tongues.

Spanish

The Spanish II class is most enthusiastic. Everyone seems to have the answer to Sister Edith's questions.

D. Fico, E. Collado and D. Nahass set up the display for their Spanish club meeting while Sister Edith looks on.

Venturing into the baffling, bewildering world of living things as well as the mechanics of physics and chemistry, awakens in us the awareness of things in the world around us. Sister Fanny patiently directs our attempts to fathom the realms of scientific discovery. All Frosh, Sophs, Juniors and Seniors learn well under her competent direction.

"Now in the book it says . . ." A. Soteriou, G. McNamee and J. Marinaro try to repair a badly mutilated plant. Sister Fanny would be proud of their "botanical learnings."

D. Vanderhook knows D. Nahass believes in love at first sight but this is ridiculous!

C. Winberry traces the circulatory system while R. Van Buren marvels at the wonders of the human body which unfold before her as the study of biology deepens.

Science

"In the world of miracles one needs to be most observant," says C. A. Mania as she prepares a slide for L. Fernandez.

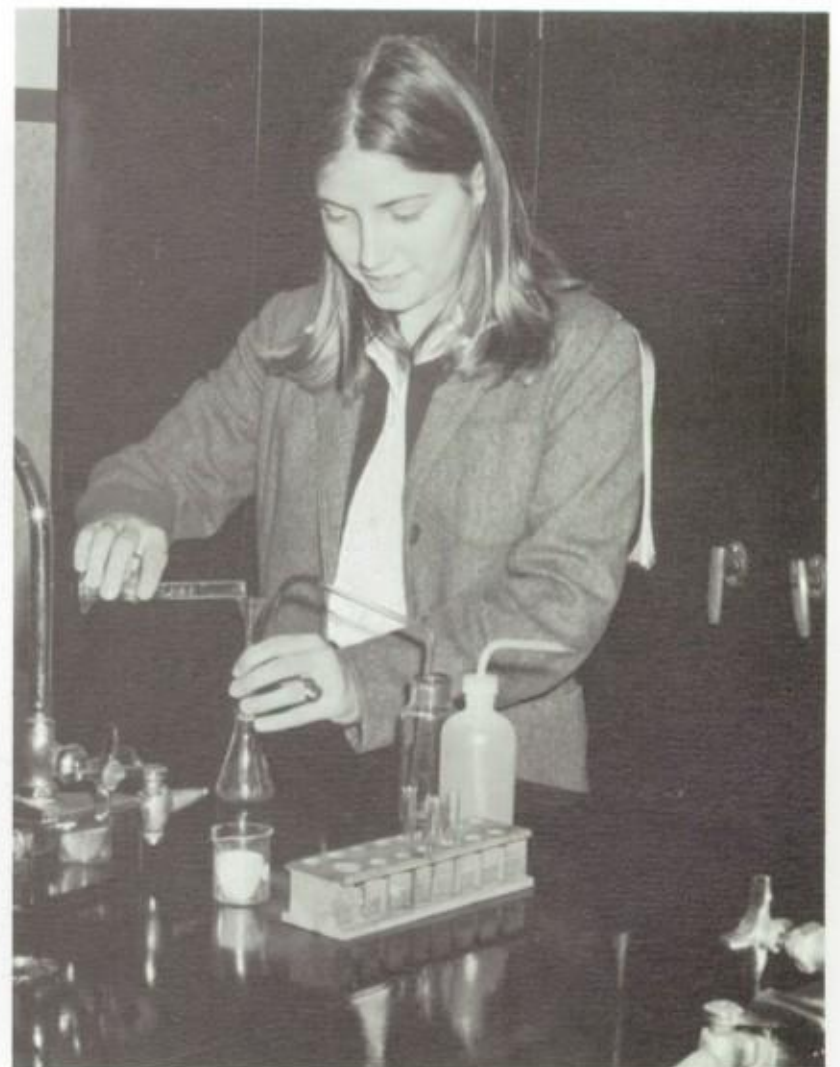

Doing an experiment isn't as easy as J. Hahn, D. Le Reste, L. Perigny and K. De Nova thought it would be.

Probing into nature's mysteries.

M. A. Morabito has just discovered a cure for the common cold. G. Agrusti witnesses the great moment.

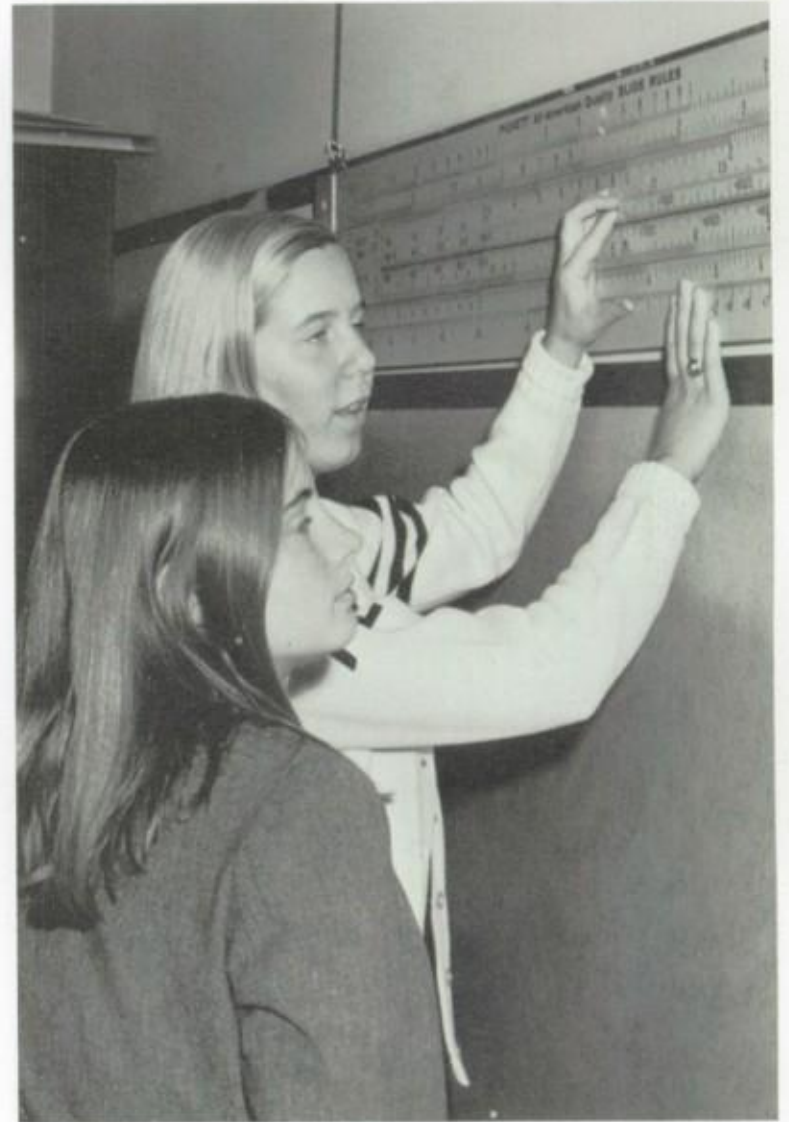

B. Jones always got a bang out of new experiments . . . BOOM!

Math

Sister Beatrice has just posed a rather difficult question. M. Fitzgerald, G. Haddad and R. Santofiore are lost in their own musings but D. Altieri has an answer!

The world of x's, y's and z's takes on a new glow as Sister Beatrice guides her students along the complex paths of Algebra and Advanced Math. She brings her classes a vibrant enthusiasm which halves the work and doubles the enjoyment. The Sophomore Geometry class found working with theorems and axioms quite a challenge but Sister Anita's multiple methods and helpful hints subtracted many of our difficulties in the maze of triangles, circles, trapezoids and rectangles.

B. Jones watches intently as J. Hahn computes an answer on the slide rule.

S. Mesa unravels a complex math problem in Math IV. E. Romeo, and K. Fox look on encouragingly.

Training ourselves to think

These geometry students are sweating their way through the steps for proving congruence.

Sister Anita helps E. Blewitt to solve a rather difficult problem.

M. Scanlan, C. Aquaviva, S. Bagli, A. Bonassin and R. Heathcote are busily at work on tomorrow's math assignment. It looks intriguing!

Glancing through Sister Mary's collection of knowledge, M. Fitzgerald and L. Pepe absorb the rights and duties of our nation.

Enabling us to span and widen our horizons, history offers us the opportunity to mold the future by learning from the achievements and failures of the past. American History became a living experience as Sister Mary unfolded the curtains of the past and allows us to live the days-gone-by. The Freshmen plow through ancient ruins and caves with Sister Theresa as they study ancient man.

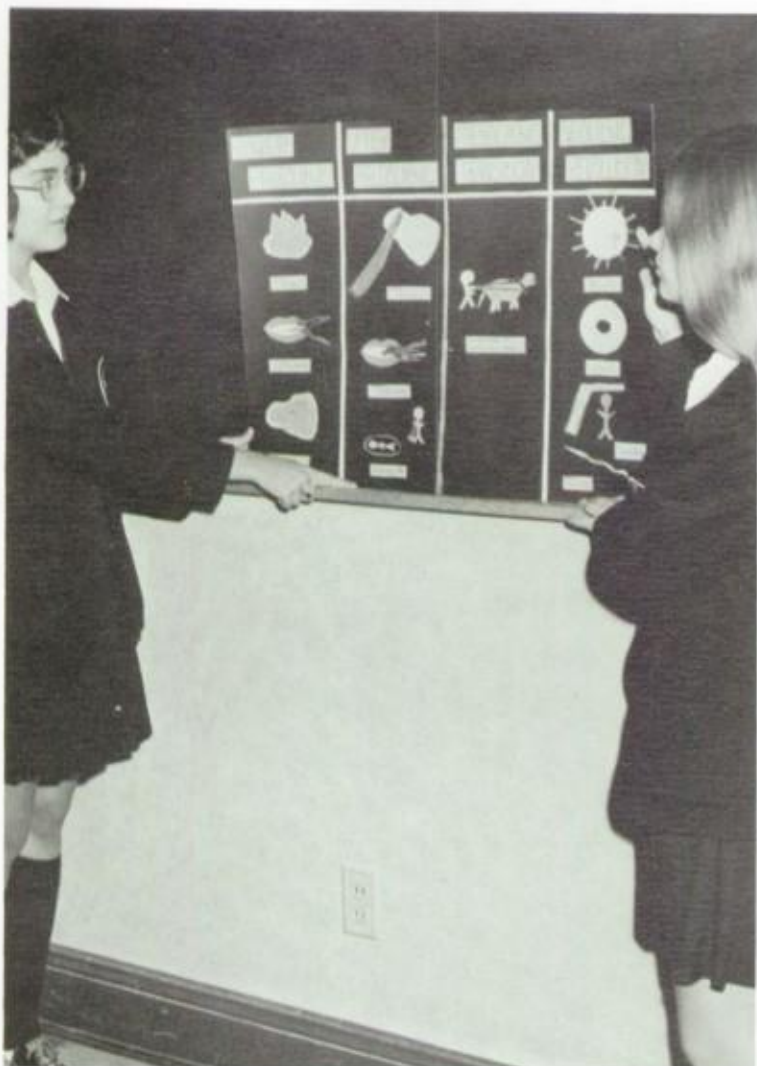

History

D. Sproviere explains the structure of our government rather dramatically while C. Verhulst looks on in rapt attention.

Juniors enjoy an invigorating history test during which a small minority have their books on the desk.

N. Alicea and D. Alexander display their works of art in ancient history class.

B. A. Record and B. Bak have just heard Sister Mary's news of a test tomorrow. Could this be their reaction?

Our beginning is the continuation of the past.

D. Altieri thinks about it while E. Kuc, M. Montesdeoca, and R. Albacete do the work.

Business

Sister Ida guides B. Hazen and L. Torres through the maze of book-keeping columns. They both look very confident!

Under the qualified direction and patient guidance of Sister Ida, typing, stenography and bookkeeping classes sparkle with enthusiasm. Each girl seriously desires to attain success in her attempt to prepare herself for a useful, fulfilling career as she begins her life in the world.

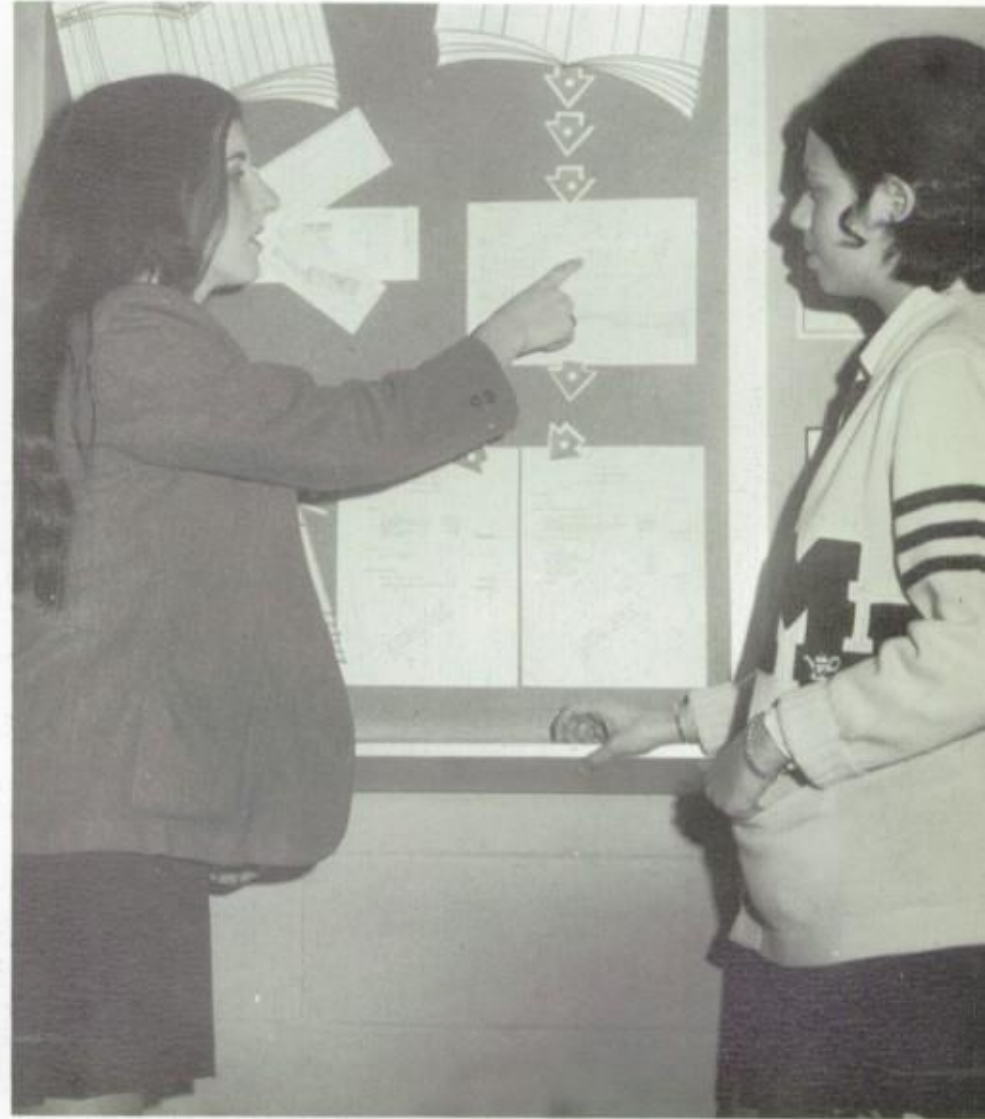

H. Wilhelm and R. Roy are hard at work at their typewriters. Their term papers must be perfect or they will be back again.

Sister Ida tests the speed and accuracy of our Junior stenographers. Soon they will be ready to face the business world — they hope!!

C. Gil anxiously waits for the dictation to begin; on your mark, get set, go!

D. Ryan and J. Amato seem to be finding some difficulty in their bookkeeping.

Developing practical business skills

"Now where would this go?" asks M. Roche.

Sister Ida is patiently trying to explain the art of typing to the Seniors.

Junior power overcomes all obstacles! C. A. Mania makes it to the top! Lending a "back" are: L. Cheff, K. Keraitis, L. Losco, F. La Barck and G. Haddad.

"All right, we surrender!" K. Larkin and C. Saputo have won this round.

"Just one more time." P. Zisa, C. Miranda, E. Blewitt, J. Record and C. Verhulst wonder how much it takes to keep physically fit.

Useful Arts

Whether it be teaching health or first aid or directing exercises on the gym floor, Sister Ann has shown us her real competency and concern for our welfare. Equally at home demonstrating the correct way to bandage a sprained arm or coaching an exciting game of basketball her enthusiasm is contagious.

Sister Beatrice teaches us the ABC's of careful driving and has a ready answer for every question.

C. Keeler anxiously watches D. King and M. Klimowich as they demonstrate in practice what Sister Ann taught them in first aid.

T. Vander Meulen is not quite sure M. Zuk is doing this right but she doesn't seem too worried so carry on, Mary!

M. A. Meneses and V. Fernandez know that you must be prepared for any eventuality.

Reading and Library Skills

New in our curriculum are the classes of reading and library skills. The girls are offered the opportunity to strengthen their comprehension and increase their speed rate in reading under the supervision of Sister Mary.

Sister Carmela trains her students in the act of using the library and reference materials, a skill which will prove most useful in years to come.

Sister Mary helps M. Perez as she tackles a difficult exercise.

M. Caramico, D. Mininni and M. Del Pozo follow Sister Mary's explanation with apparent enjoyment.

J. Plokhooy and L. Radice ponder a question which Sister Carmela has just raised.

Sister Carmela supervises as E. Rice, L. Radice and J. Record list the classification of books in the Dewey Decimal System.

C. Squatrito demonstrates piano playing techniques to A. Denver and B. Moore. Music plays an important role here at M.H.C.

Music

after that period in Glee Club no wonder

One characteristic of a Salesian School is joy and where there is joy there must be music! Sister Rose sees to it that each of her students masters the basics in music fundamentals. Of course, things would not be just right if they could not "make" music and so the girls learn to "toot" along on recorders. Often they accompany the organ at Mass.

Dear Katie,

It was really great (know) knowing you this past year. Also remember the great "wonderful" times in Glee Club

E. Rice, M. Brito, H. Wilhelm, G. Agrusti, R. Santafiore, D. Alexander and T. Rodia join their voices in one of Sr. Rose's musical scores. The glee club members have added much spirit and zest to our lives.

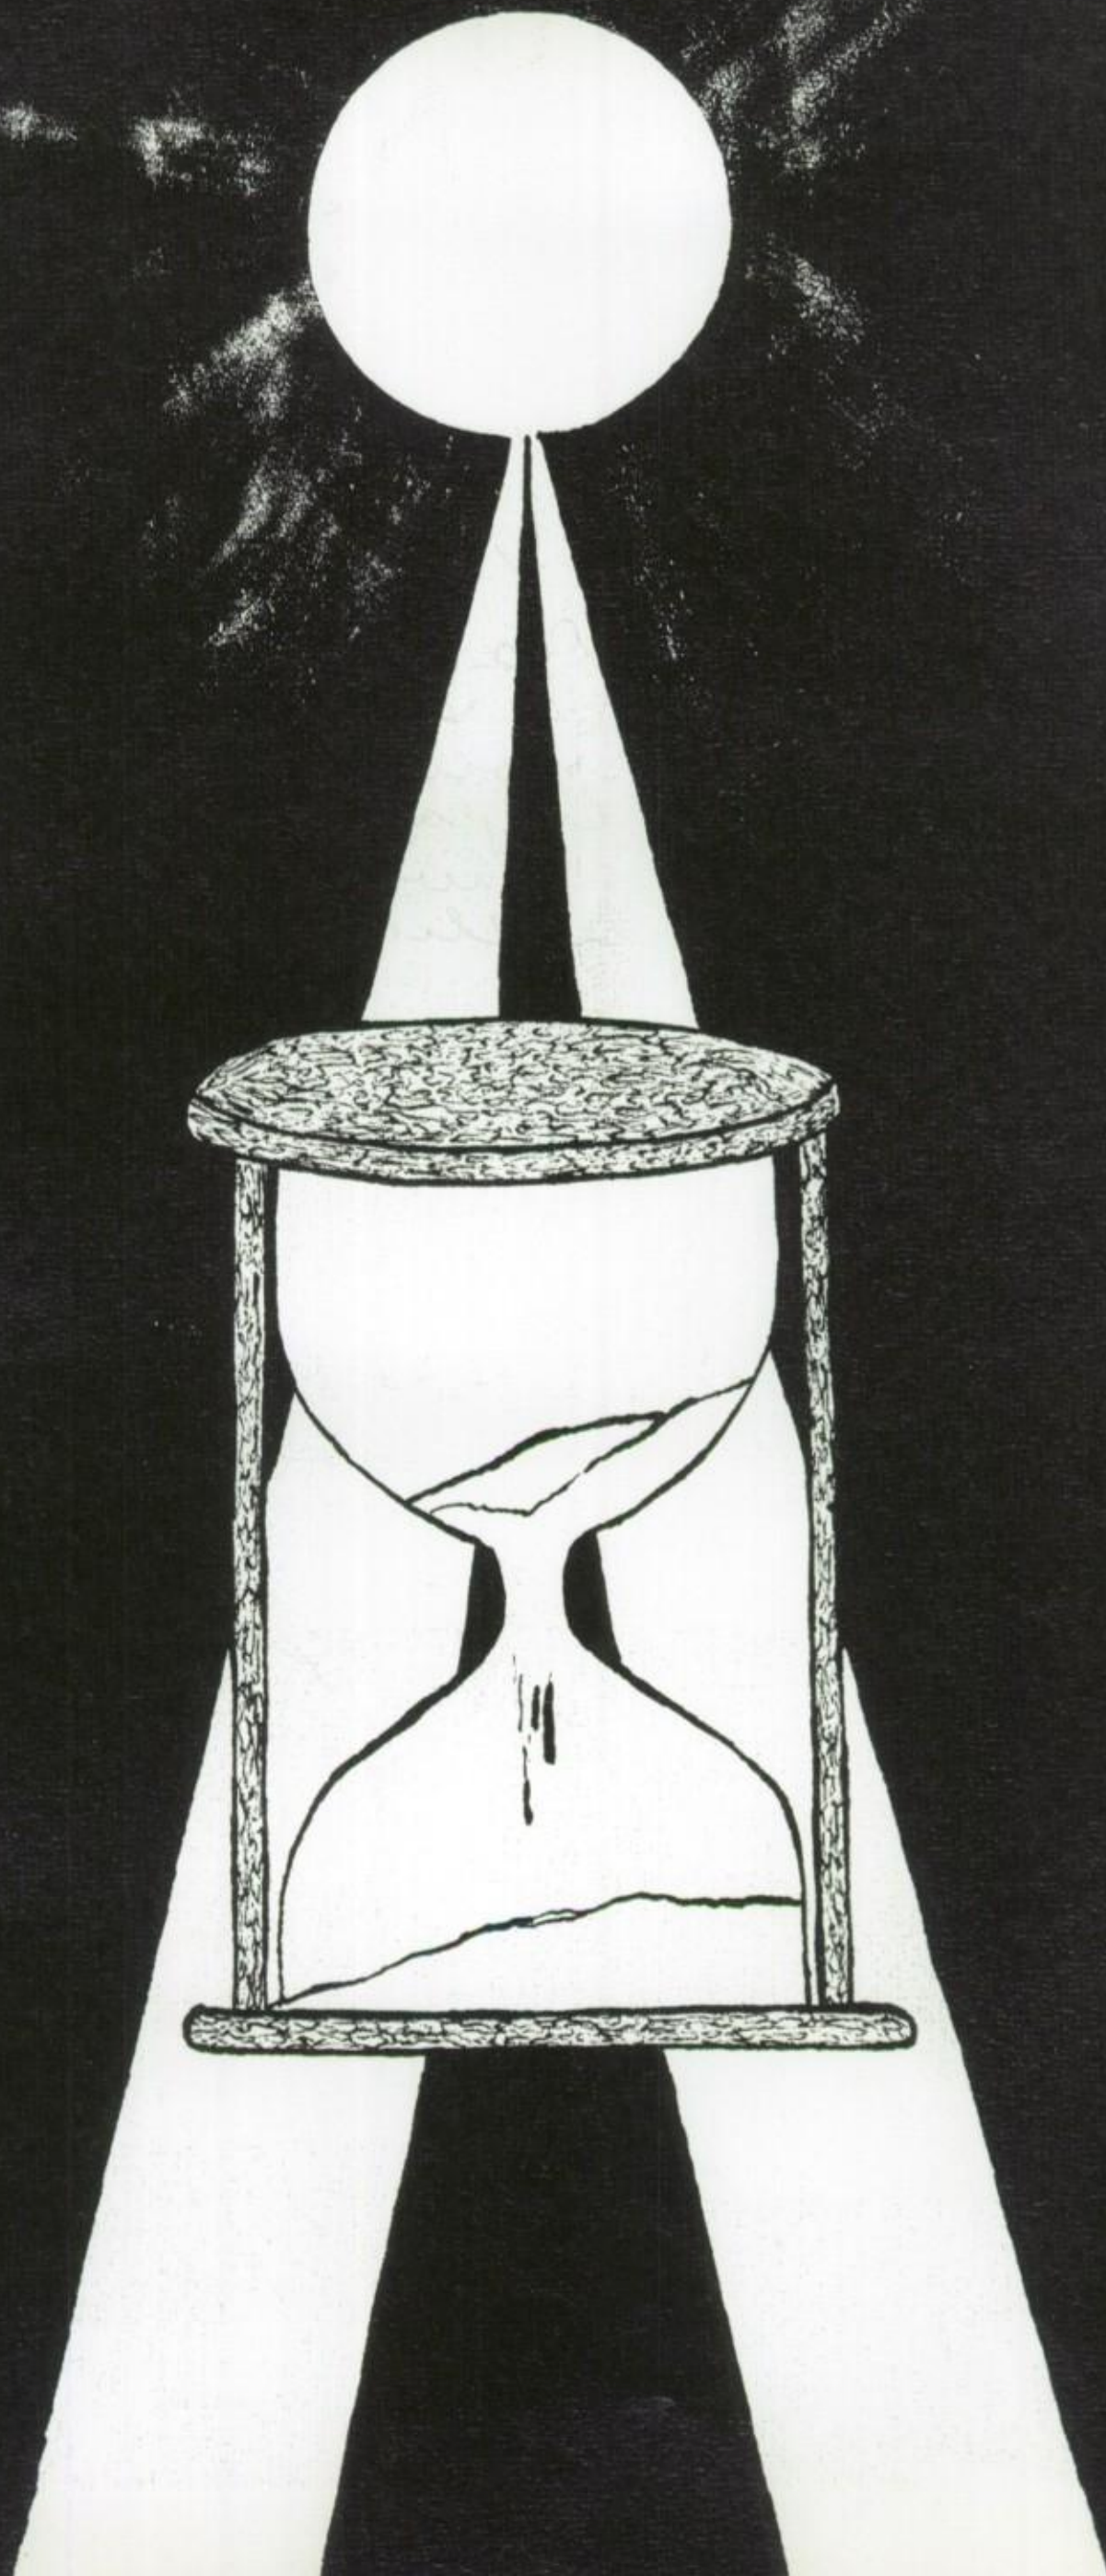

See you next year. Always remember the 'Alto's' Love Rosa

Sr. Rose, always totally engrossed, enumerates the essential qualities for developing an ability for sight-singing. B. Verry and E. Rice listen attentively.

L. Van Fleet, T. Lott, P. Lott, S. Sciveress and M. Rodriguez are not to be outdone. They may not be quite as original but give them that old time music and away they go!

Aspirant D. Fico introduces Freshmen B. Verry, D. Giaimo, L. Tesauro and C. Twitty to every nook and cranny of our beautiful campus.

The newcomers to our family.

M. Martinez is helping A. Suriano take the easy way around Sacred Heart Hall. Our extensive grounds certainly do give us plenty of room to move!

D. Backert, T. Lott, J. Marinaro seem to be having a little difficulty pulling K. Halpin away from the candy machine. Is she really caught?

D. Padalino and K. Del Pozo wait patiently as G. Perez tries to decide whether or not this is the way to first period class.

G. Rodriguez, D. Passano, J. Noller and V. Marjonovic enjoy a peaceful view of our campus between classes. Their happy smiles reveal the joy characteristic of all our Freshmen.

In the short time they have been with us, the Freshmen have made good use of the "room given to grow." They are active, affectionate and warmly audacious. We know that this good spirit will help them to go a long way.

A. Denver does not seem to enjoy her assigned topic but it has put stars in M. Verson's eyes and G. Shepperson eyes her warily. D. Backert studies intently.

Don't forget to sing with love on your face!

The signs of victory brighten their faces as S. Castellano scores, M. D'Amico times. What! G. Conforti and M. Crane are secretaries?

She does it every time! S. Cabrera, S. Sciveress and C. Carbone try to help M. Martinez out of a difficult spot.

Looking through the many volumes they must master, C. Lyness and L. Van Fleet do not seem overly concerned.

L. McKeoun is rather concerned about the prospect of a broken leg for L. Fahmie but R. Di Marsico is ready to catch her.

B. Sadiwnyk, T. Urena, and G. Conforti do their part in keeping our grounds in top shape.

K. Larkin, C. Keeler and T. Kropp enjoy a breath of fresh air before entering the gym for their daily exercises.

M. Saouaff, C. Shepperson and M. Verson tease A. Sin-amark as she attempts to extricate herself from the old bus.

A. Suriano, C. Saputo, C. Sanzari and B. Sadiwnyk have found a restful corner where they can carry on their excuses.

D. Suriel and N. Bayrambul try in vain to excuse their tardiness. Her pen poised over a pass, Sister Julia reminds them that they have five minutes — time enough!

... have worked their way into the very fabrics of our school life.

I. Torres, D. King, G. Perez, V. Suriel, K. Wilhelm and A. Soteriou pose before the meaningful mosaic in the cafeteria foyer.

M. Crane and M. D'Amico laugh heartily after their head-on collision. Will they be able to re-assemble their papers?

S. Cabrera and S. Castellano slowly and seriously bring their gifts to the altar.

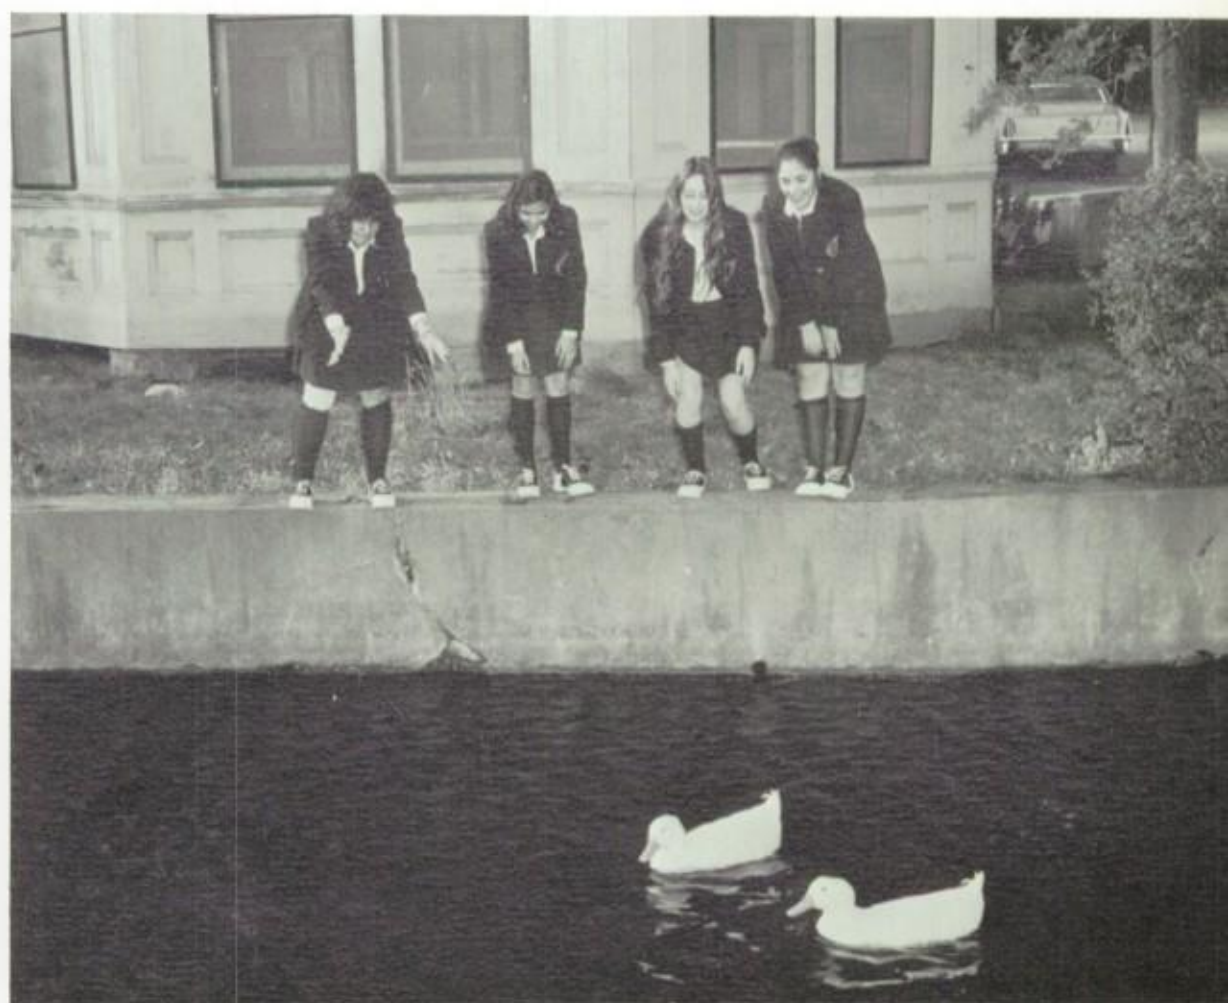

L. Van Fleet, M. Squatrito, B. Moore, M. Klimowich, M. Henry, C. Lyness and K. Larkin have lost their way to class. This problem faces many freshmen at first, but they soon learn their way around.

In true S-sette fashion

Freshman

G. McNamee, D. Padalino, M. Martinez and K. Payne have already laid claims to their favorite spot on campus.

L. Rivera, T. Urena, N. Wade and M. Vargas have made friends, or at least they are trying to make friends with the ducks on our campus lake.

Sophomores

Our "little sisters" have proved themselves to be a dynamic, growing group of S-ettes. Full of fun and bubbling with spirit, the Sophomores have tackled all their problems with determination and have always emerged victorious from the challenge. Their cheerfulness is contagious and there is never any doubt where the Sophomores are during any activity. Where the action is the hottest, there will they be found.

E. Blewitt, J. Record, and C. Miranda learn how to work the lights on our stage.

C. Sama seems to be in a state of shock as R. Nardella sets out to put things right!

D. Lyness and J. Nicolosi do not understand why the dial tone never comes through. C. Muir and C. McVeigh are amused at their companions apparent lack of observation.

J. Holloman is not quite sure she should have accepted the dare to jump. C. Samsel, S. Straight and E. Rice enjoy her dilemma.

The sophisticated Sophomores

E. Pierre-Louise, M. Perez and S. Ward demonstrate the union which exists among the Sophomores.

C. Acquaviva, K. Funcheon and E. Collado build their vocabulary skills through word games.

"According to A. Van Seeters' filmstrip, Addis Ababa should be somewhere around here," says C. Muir. D. Mininni scowls as she holds the rim of the globe.

M. Puente thinks R. Van Buren is being rather dramatic but, as B. Jaouen and J. Posthuma comment, in a spot like this how can you help it?

have captured all the spirit of the mighty S-ettes.

That's S. Bagli, always getting herself into a fix. C. Aquaviva tries to wrench Susan free, as C. Miranda grits her teeth and A. Bonassin enjoys a good laugh.

P. Lott, S. Fodi and M. Caramico crowd around D. Suriel awaiting their turn to use the phone.

D. Lyness and C. Squatrito just relish the idea of closing L. Wilkins, D. Dlugokencki and M. Dillon in the trunk of a senior's car.

and have encouraged us on our way.

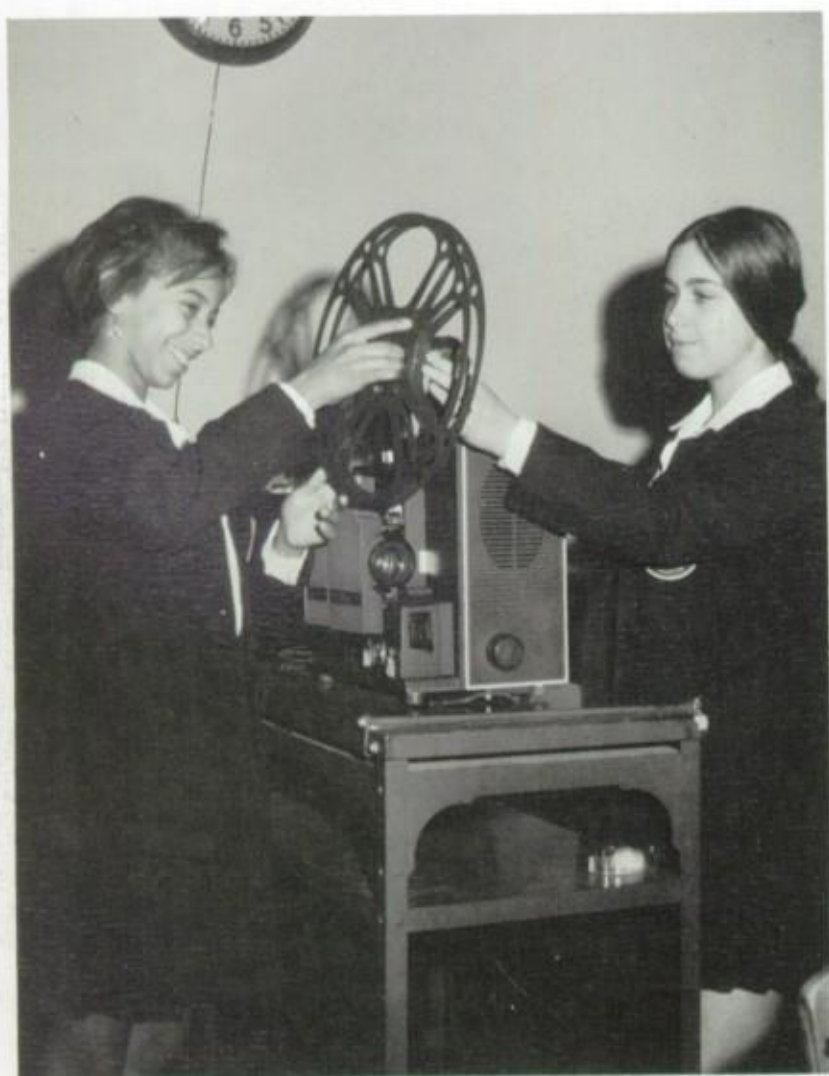

Leave it to E. Blewitt, B. Jaouen, J. Record, M. Callejas, C. Napodano, M. Scanlan, R. Skerritt and S. Waddell to find their very own swing — the campus gate!

R. Heathcote, S. De Marco, E. Collado, R. Nardella and D. Mininni are already to leave on our M.H.C. bus!

Our little sisters are fun-loving, dynamic and on the go!

D. Saillant and B. Jaouen enjoy setting up the projector for a class film.

K. Cingale, C. McVeigh, L. Fierro, D. Chiari and D. Vanderhook rest between classes. Are they collecting specimens for biology?

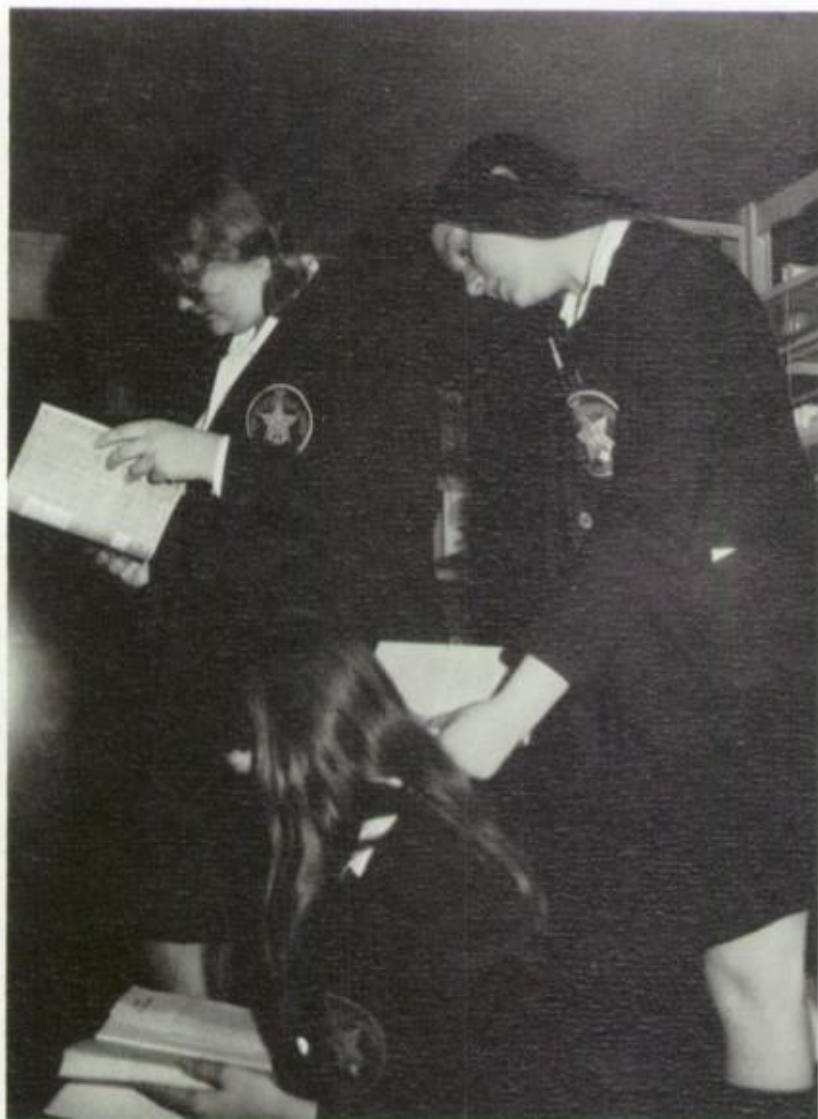

L. Wilkins, S. Nekervis and R. Lippi take advantage of a quiet moment in chapel.

C. Aquaviva, T. Vander Meulen, M. Caramico and D. Suriel go over their day's assignment before class.

They are our little sisters!

M. Zuk, C. Winberry and R. Van Buren have found that our library is a valuable source of knowledge.

J. Urena, C. Santana and M. Callejas study the bulletin board display honoring Don Bosco.

Juniors

D. Pagnillo, C. Ziccardi, C. Limongi and K. Comer try to tackle an absorbing assignment. E. Eaddy seems to have found the answer.

The Juniors are proud that finally they share the role of "upperclassmen." Accepting with admirable ability all the responsibilities inherent in that role, they have taken great strides towards maturity. With confidence and trust we pass them the banner of leadership.

What are L. Eissman, L. Loranger and N. Callandriello up to now? Could it be that the feeling of spring has gripped them? A Salesian spirit is evident in their mischievous smiles.

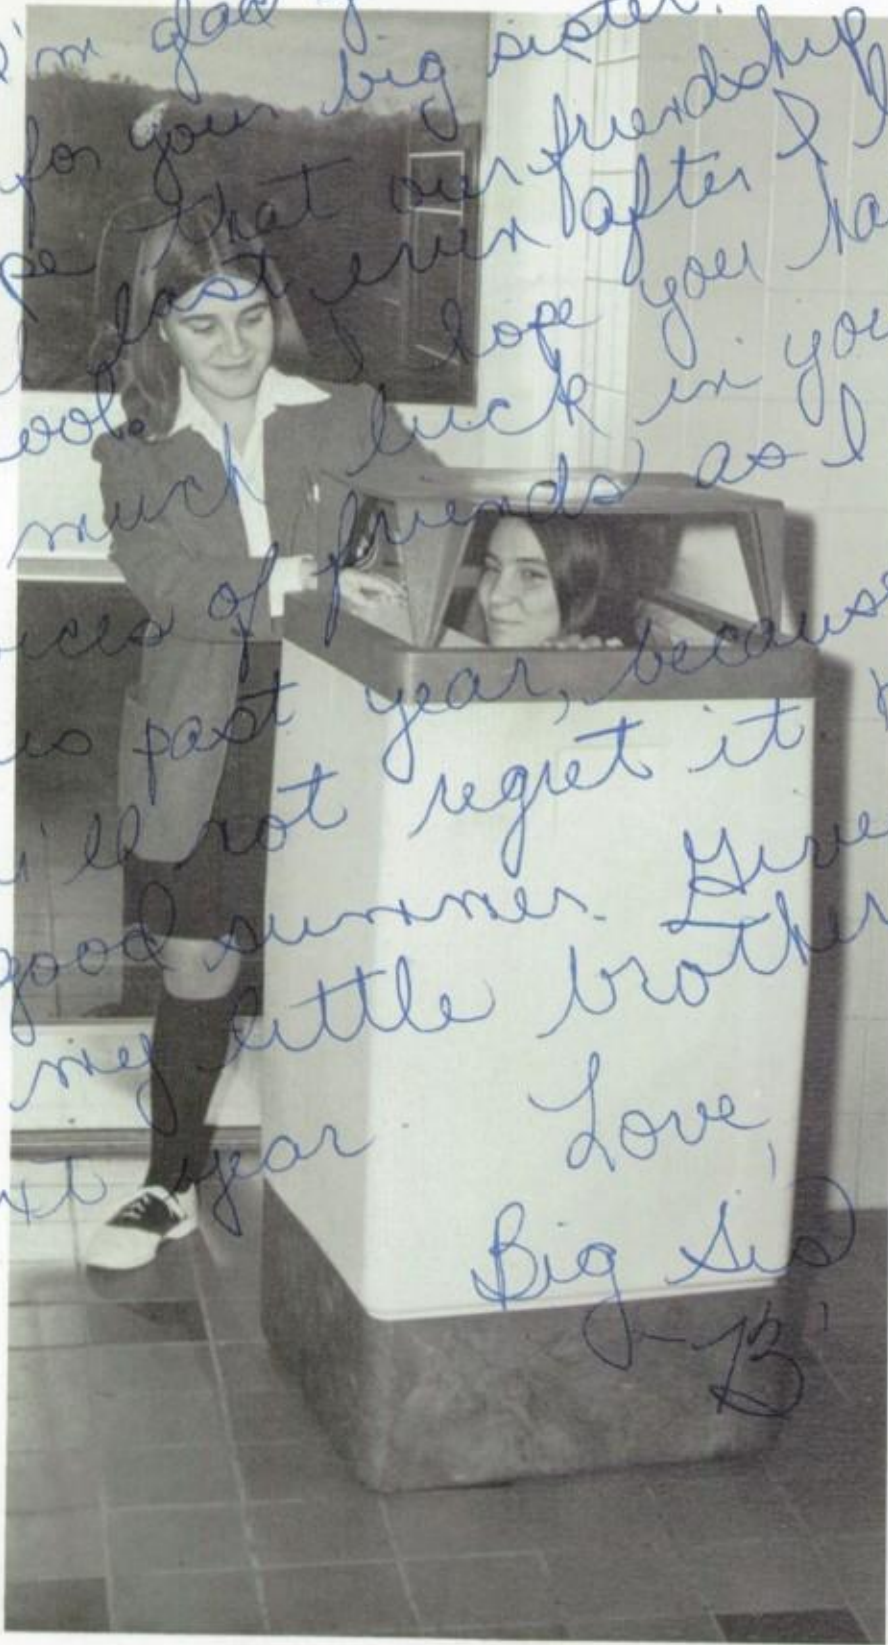

G. Haddad, S. Recker, P. Peruzzi, V. Blewitt relax after a strenuous day's work. Our campus provides many secluded nooks where we can enjoy peace and quiet.

E. Salcedo, M. F. Addice, I. Estevez and J. Abbate watch as L. Taylor takes the dare to trespass on the Senior steps.

I'm glad you asked for your big sister. I hope that our friendship will last ever after I leave school. I hope you have as much luck in your choices of friends as I have this past year, because then we'll not regret it. Have a good summer. Give my love to my little brother. See you next year. Love,
 Big Sis

"She's coming! Get down! She'll never find you here," says R. Santofiore to B. May.

"Brrr! It's freezing up here," says V. Fernandez, K. Keraitis, C. Caruso and M. Brito.

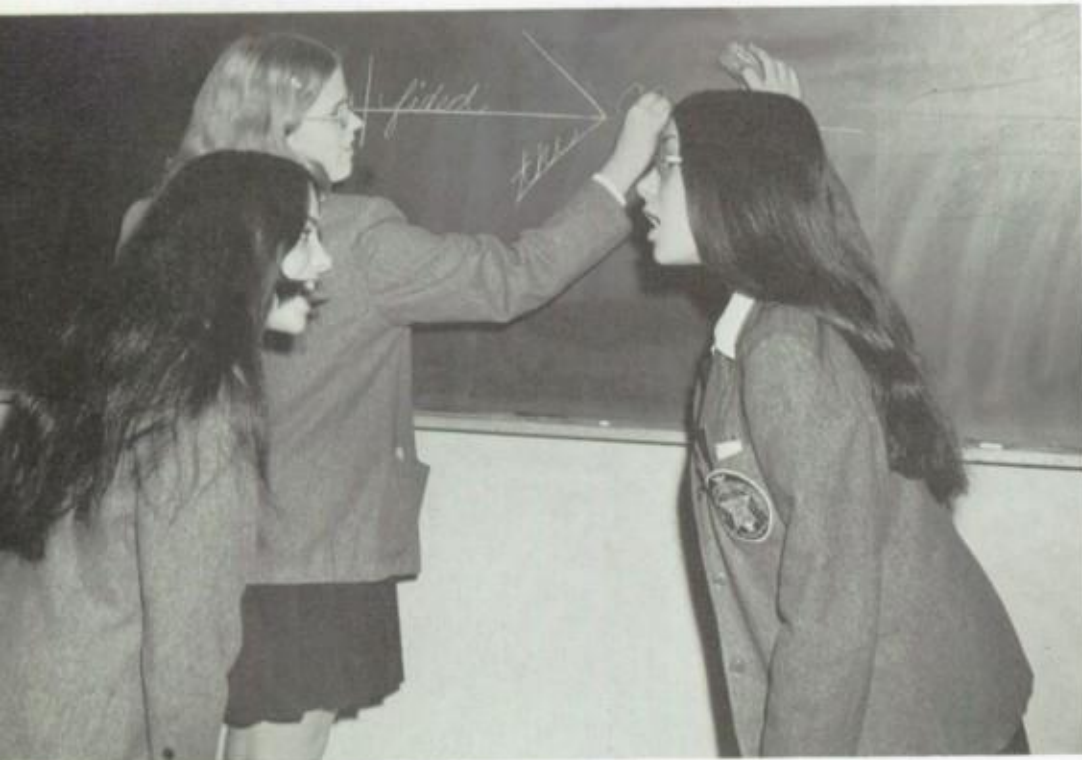

Over the river and through the dale to Mary Help we go! S. Recker, M. E. Chiari and V. Blewitt.

Brilliant Juniors! Now how are you going to get out? That's the problem which F. La Barck, L. Pepe, D. Pagnillo, A. Disimino and C. Sidney face.

So the Juniors assume the role

M. F. Addice argues with J. Abbate as usual but A. Disimino works undisturbed. Our active Juniors are noted for their heated debates.

V. Blewitt dreams of the day when she will work in her own lab. She has ample opportunity for practice here at M.H.C.!

"Just keep the ball rolling" is the slogan of A. Cubillos, M. E. Record and L. Santoro as they clear the gym floor after an energetic class.

V. La Malva, I. Nesselt and D. Lupinelli drink in the peace and quiet before afternoon classes resume.

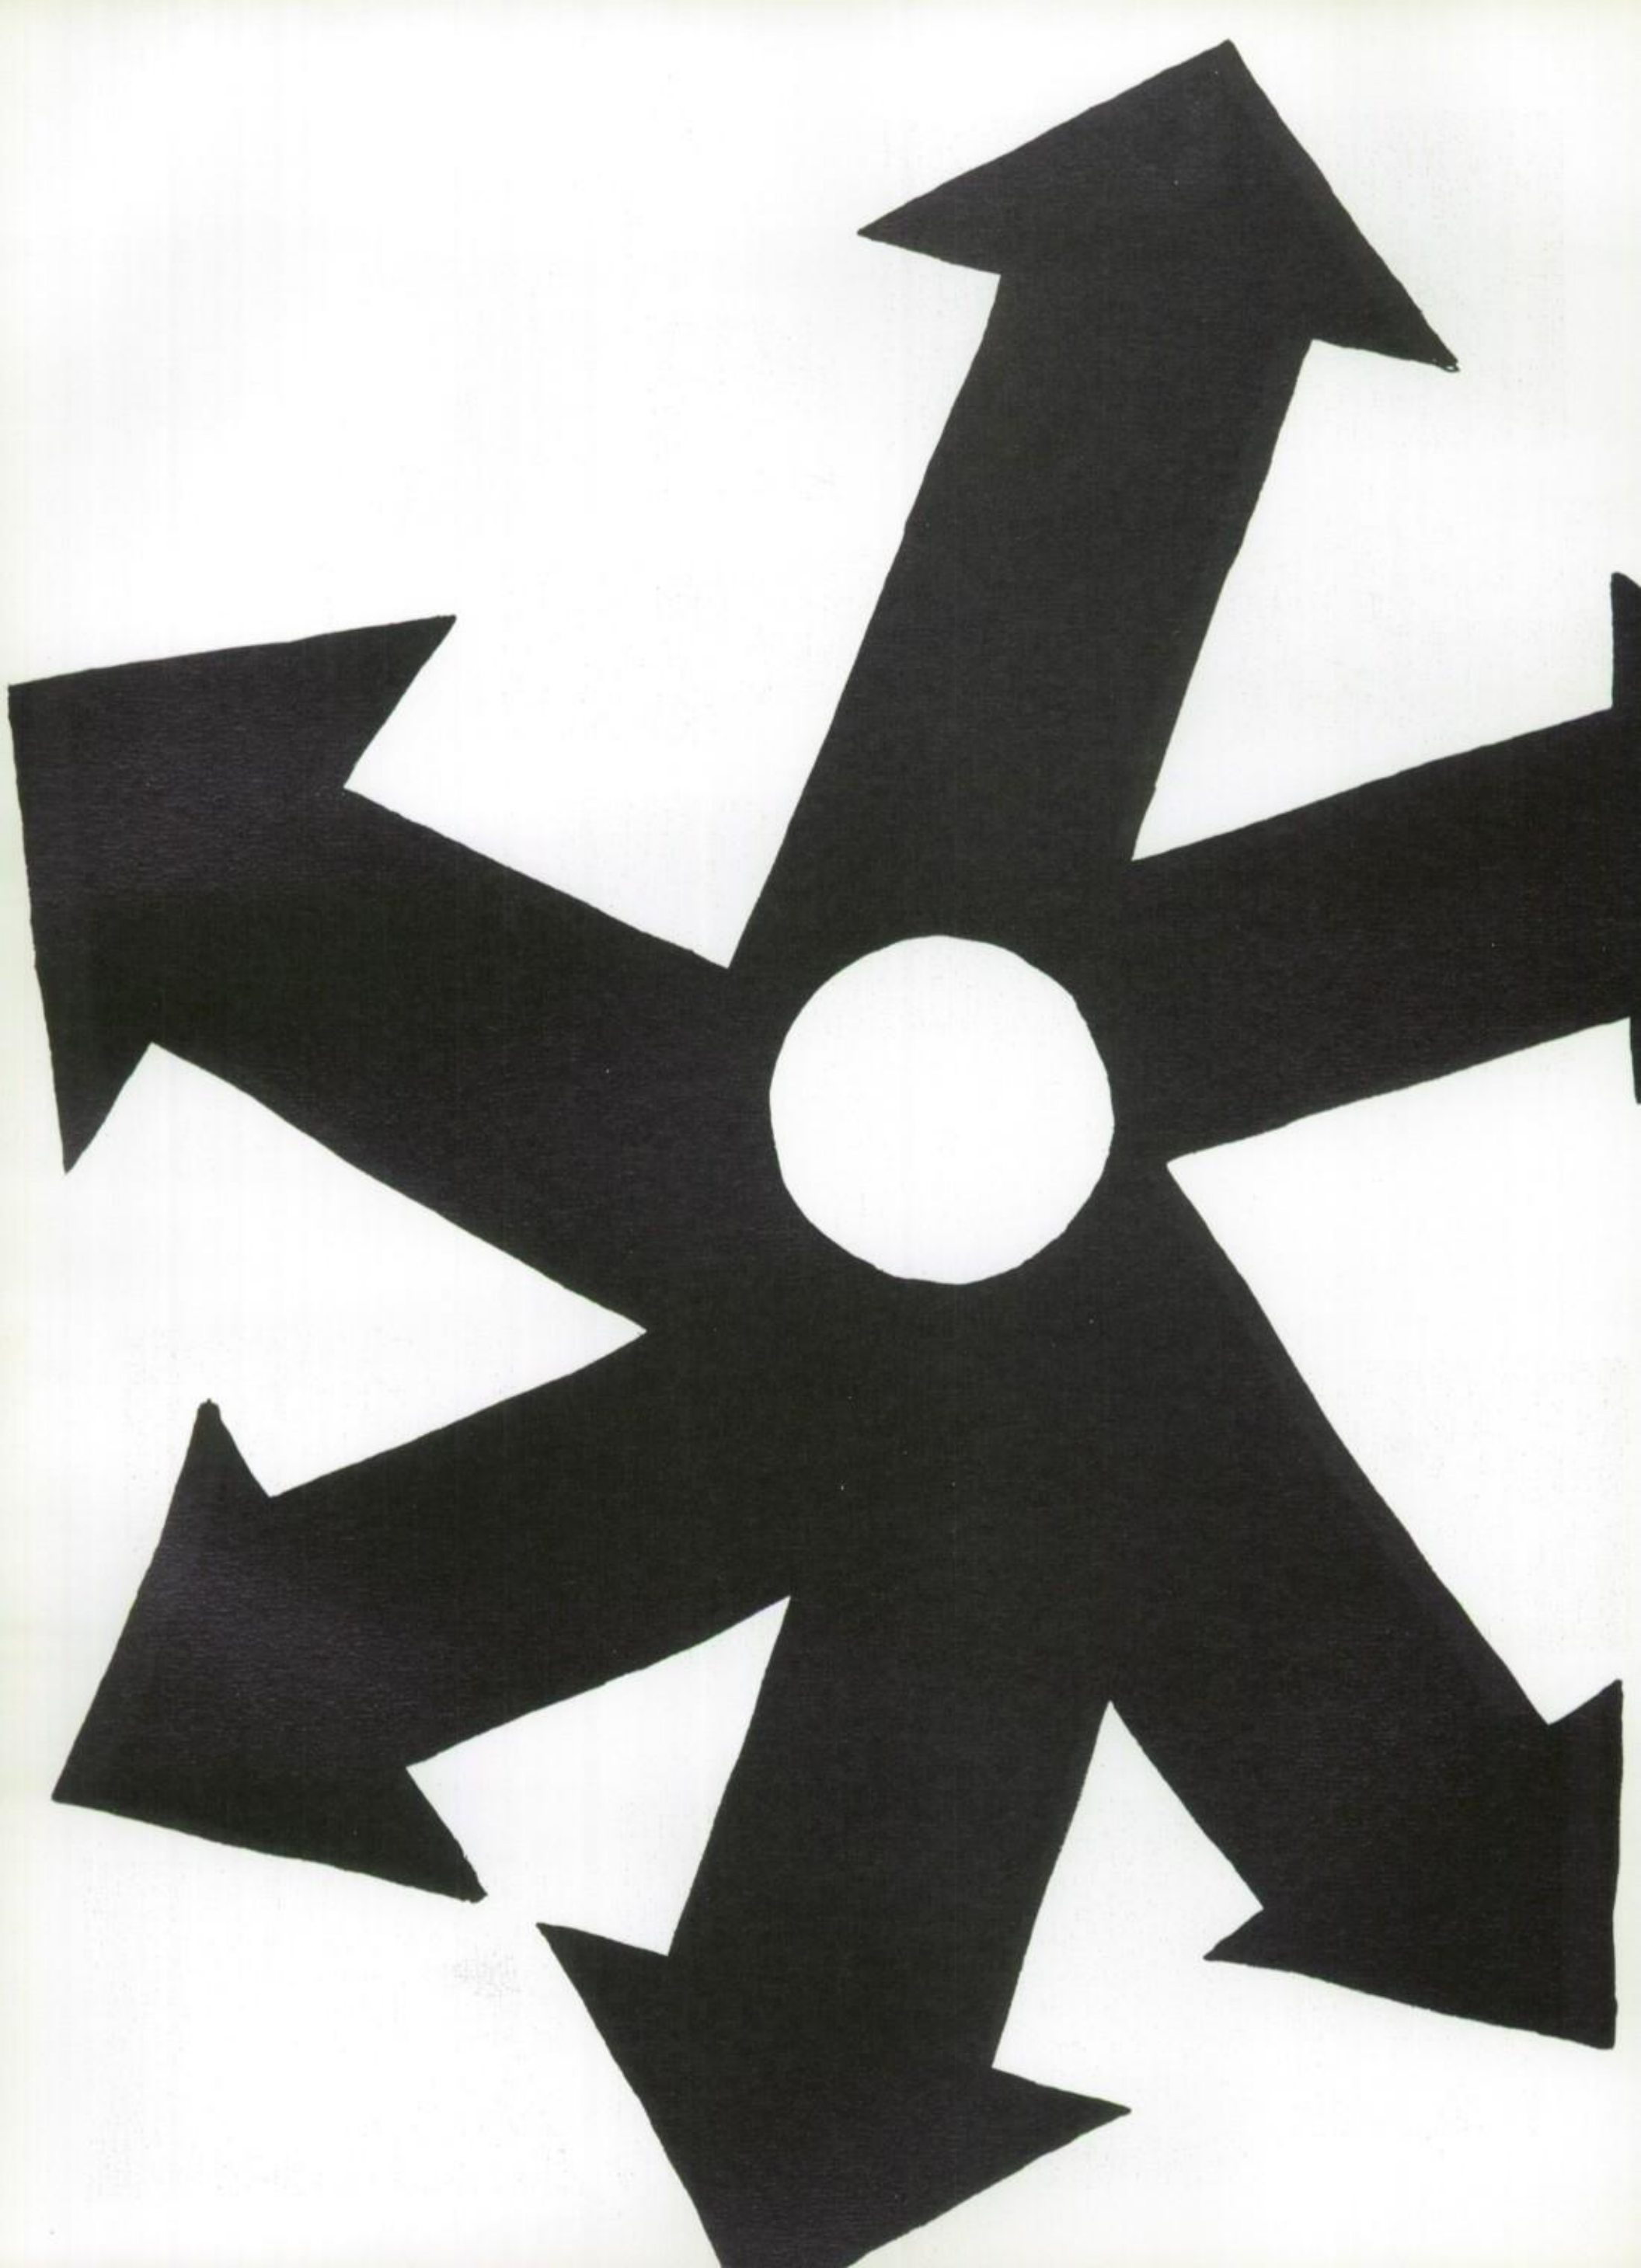

D. Delaquis instructs E. Eaddy, B. Grice and M. Fitzgerald to stand guard. Curiosity demands satisfaction.

M. A. Mania, H. Wilhelm, D. Piscitelli and R. Roy are moving up in our M.H.C. world.

L. Bernstein, M. Meneses, M. Rodriguez and M. Tumlty are lost in meditation. The setting would inspire deep thought in anyone as serious as these four Juniors.

ACTIVITIES

SO MANY ROADS TO CHOOSE.

Religion

Sister Superior offers the ciborium to Father De Blase during a special Mass on the feast of the Immaculate Conception.

Religion is the heart beat of our life here at M.H.C. With the beginning of a new school year we shake off our spiritual lethargy and awaken to a new life in the spirit. A day of recollection is planned and we give ourselves entirely to the workings of Divine Grace. Father Martin D'Auria and Father Joseph Ferrito offered a concelebrated Mass for us and gave us the opportunity to learn more deeply the truths, and experience more profoundly the meaning of our faith.

B. A. Record is lost in thought as she perches herself in her favorite spot. A perfect place to think deeply on things that really matter!

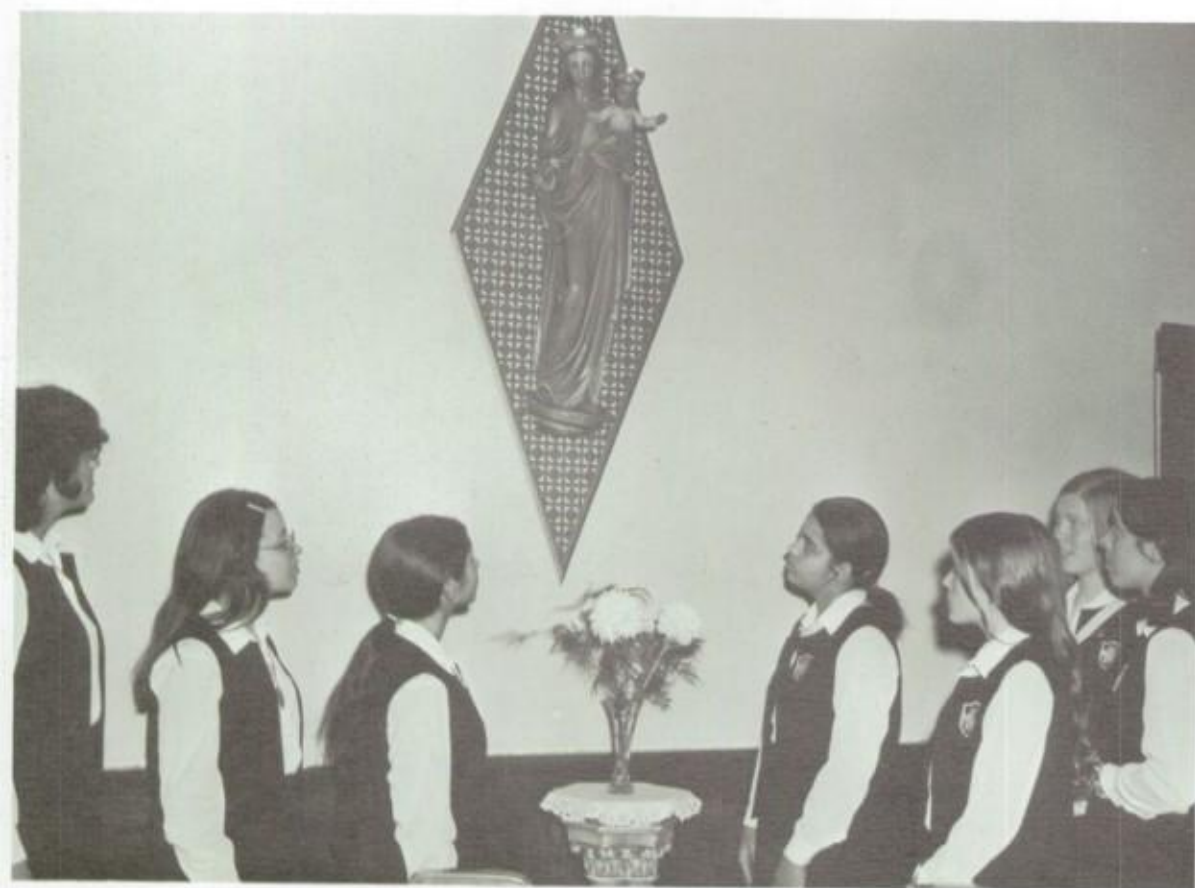

D. Ryan, N. Roman and B. Jones stop outside the chapel. It looks as though Donna has found something interesting. Is it food for meditation?

Learning to be children of Mary — witnesses of her love.

L. Radice, S. Mesa, F. Cingari, N. Roman, D. Piscitelli, M. Brito and H. Wilhelm understand the depth of Our Lady's love and guidance.

D. Piscitelli holds the tray as Sister Superior places the medal, a sign of membership, on E. Rice. S. Straight, D. Alexander and K. Dunn anxiously await their turn.

K. DeNova smiles as she places a crown of flowers on the statue of Our Lady. This is an honor coveted by each girl at the academy.

M. Sanislo offers a rose to our Lady as the symbol of her love and devotion to the "Queen of the Campus."

As Juniors, we showed our gratitude to Our Lady by attending the Liturgical service in her honor.

A Mother's Love —

A Daughter's Answer

E. Romeo and K. De Nova pay tribute to Mary as they place their roses in the urn before Our Lady.

K. Fox eagerly receives the long-awaited symbol of seniority — the school ring, distributed after the crowning.

Mission Club

Sister Mary lends a helping hand as D. Backert, M. Lopez, J. Wehrell, D. Zuk, A. Suriano, and M. Del Pozo work on a Mission project.

Our horizon extends far beyond our own little worlds. The Mission Club keeps us aware of the people who need us, spiritually as well as materially. Through our efforts we hope to make the sun rise on a new beginning for our needy brothers also.

To arouse interest in the many activities sponsored by the mission club L. Farnhagen, S. De Marco, J. Holloman, D. Lyness, and J. Plokhoo turn out attractive posters.

Keeping abreast of the world's problems is just one of the many ways to keep alive a love for the missions. Here J. Abbate, C. Sidney, D. Pagnillo, K. Keraitis, C. Ziccardi, and F. La Barck read pertinent literature.

Here a large section of the mission club works hard to raise money to help under-privileged countries in some small way.

The members of the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine Teacher-Training Course pose with Sister Theresa, their moderator.

R. Van Buren uses the flannel board in a demonstration lesson. Members of the C.C.D. group learned the effective use of visual aids.

C.C.D.

Our girls are out-going in more ways than one. The joy and contentment they find in living life in the love and company of the good God has incited them to become apostles. The C.C.D. course will certify them to go out and share this message, this joy, this love which is found in an awareness that we have a loving Father — our God.

J. Posthuma plays the part of a skeptic while R. Lippi and S. Waddell prove a point through a Gospel story. They will convince her yet!

Our talented glee club members pose with Sister Rose, their moderator.

Dear Katie, (Katie's daughter)

It's been a pleasure having you as a friend. May our Lady guide you along the correct path, so that you may attain the goal which you'll set for yourself.

Music is that added ingredient which brings joy to the heart and a sparkle in the eyes of each girl in our glee club. Sister Rose gives life and glow to even the simplest melody. Her specialty is liturgical music. Church services take on an even more festive atmosphere when the glee club sings praise and adoration with us.

Love,
Sina

Dear Katie,

You've been a good friend & this year has been great with you. Always remember the fantastic Glee Club sessions. Good luck.

Glee Club Love

C. Squatrito holds the sacramentary for Father Azzoni as he reads the prayer of blessing over our new piano.

C. Aquaviva plays a solo during a break in regular glee club practice session.

Dear Katie: Hi! Great knowing you.
 you're very nice & funny.
 Have fun in the summer.
 Love Maria.

Sister Rose is deeply engrossed in her directing while B. Verry, C. Keeler, M. Squatrito, M. Brito and C. Brueckmann sing on.

C. Aquaviva watches the music as C. Squatrito takes her turn at the piano during our Christmas program.

Top: V. Suriel, N. Roman, R. Roy, A. Denver, M. Gibney, T. Kroppp. Row 2: D. Suriel, S. Sciveress, S. Bagli, B. Moore, D. Dlugokencki, R. Lippi. Bottom: E. Henry, C. Carbone, M. Martinez, L. Pepe.

Sister Rose plays while the glee club prays silently during Mass.

Music is the soul of our Salesian cheerfulness.

D. Mininni and D. Lyness skate across the stage in a winter scene from our interpretation of "Silver Bells."

M. Meneses, L. Torres, D. Le Reste, and A. Chinnici line up for a special dance number, all decked out in their country cousins' straw hats.

New experiences make up our "beginnings" as we venture timidly at first and then more boldly out into the world of our stage. Besides the enjoyment that goes into the preparation, we develop poise, talent and a sense of ease in presenting ourselves to the public. Sister Anita, our moderator, has worked hard together with Sister Mary, to help us enjoy every minute of the tremendous work entailed in belonging to our drama club.

Drama

This is our great drama club! So many girls made the task seem light and the fun doubled. Sister Anita was wondering where to put us all, but we're "naturals" on the stage!

Sister Anita directs one of our stage productions. P. Hadley implores M. Montesdeoca for mercy while D. Piscitelli awaits the final verdict.

New horizons open to us as we begin to play our roles.

M. Carafello prays in silent adoration as B. Grice as St. Joseph, and N. Wade as Our Lady, gaze reverently on the Christ Child in a tableau during our annual Christmas program.

D. King, B. Grice and L. Perigny take a peek between scenes. All seems to be going well, judging from their expressions.

M. Saouff, C. Shepperson imitate M. Lopez as she tries to teach them a stage dance.

Hobby

The Hobby Club seemed enthused at getting their picture taken.

Knit 1, Purl 2, M. Tumulty and Sr. Mary show needlework can be fun.

E. Eaddy, S. Cabrera, L. Riviera, G. McNamee, L. Alois, C. Twitty are hard at work making all kinds of creations. They love to show their talents.

Interested members sit in a circle to exchange their new crocheting stitches.

Left to right: C. Sama, R. Skerritt, Sr. Carmela, S. Straight, J. Posthuma, L. Farnhagen, C. Samsel, and S. Waddell are some of our able library aides.

Our library offers us a rich source of materials from which we can do all kinds of research. Keeping it in order and helping the girls to find what they want is a full-time task. Sister Carmela is always ready with her ever-present smile, but it is impossible for her to be everywhere all at once. Our cheerful library aides have made light work for both Sister Carmela and the girls. They are efficient and skillful. They have learned library skills which will be a great asset to them later.

Library Aides

M. Dillon, R. Skerritt and S. Straight are looking over the "educational" books available in the library.

C. Sidney tries in vain, to explain to H. Wilhelm and D. Zuk the fundamentals of being a library aide as Sr. Carmela looks on.

S. Waddell is wondering what J. Posthuma and M. Puente are giggling about. Little does she know her picture is on the front page!

Auxilium Staff

The work was tremendous, tiring, time-consuming but now that it is over, we can also say it was a real experience. In the planning, the writing, the picture-taking, we have relived our four years from their beginnings even to the evening of years at home at M.H.C. We will treasure the memories captured on these pages as we now step out to see that our real life "has only just begun."

Our Adviser, Sister Anita, could be recognized by the papers she always carried and her fast pace down the halls. It was hard to find her unoccupied.

Editor-in-chief, V. Fontana, guides co editor, E. Romeo as she announces the order of pictures to be taken for the underclassmen.

Our financial staff had the headache of keeping the Auxilium funds growing and the records in order. V. Rocco, M. Chiavola, D. Sproviere and K. Fox did a great job.

B. Bak, C. Gil, B. Jones, A. Chinnici and J. Amato kept all their fingers limber as they typed and typed and typed again!

Here some of us are at one of our most active moments — picture taking days! The others are still running. D. Le Reste, A. Fitzmaurice, E. Romeo and V. Fontana.

Lay-out staff went to work immediately in September! Top: L. Torres, C. Verhulst, J. Hahn, D. Le Reste. Bottom: F. Cingari, L. Perigny, J. Klepper and M. Sanislo.

Months of hard work bring fulfillment!

The literary staff worked painstakingly on copy to fit each page. B. A. Record, H. Samsel, M. Manuel, L. Radice and C. Kulik were helped greatly by the quiet work done by S. Angsten who is not in the group.

Next, photography chose and cropped the pictures to fit the layout. K. De Nova, S. Mesa, A. Fitzmaurice, E. Martinez and R. Nahass. D. Ryan, the photography editor of all people, is missing.

Math Club

Future mathematicians band together every Friday with Sister Beatrice. Here Math is strictly for experts — for fun! From "Dizzy Math" to the more sophisticated computers — we run every road open to us!

Sister Beatrice demonstrates the manipulation of the computer to M. Perez, J. Nicolosi and S. De Marco.

J. Plokhooy, L. Radice, R. Van Buren and S. Nekervis have taken a more geometric approach to their math project.

G. Haddad asks Sister Beatrice if she can solve a problem Ginnette, herself, has drawn up.

M. Caramico, T. Vander Meulen and C. Sama experiment with geometric forms in an attempt to construct something.

Art Club

Sister Edith shares the horizons of beauty in her art club. Here the girls learn to express their deeper feelings in different shades and hues. Sister has made the girls realize that behind every picture there is a message.

K. Limongi and P. Reid proudly exhibit the fruit of hours of hard work.

D. Zuk and K. Comer have set up a display that is original and pleasing — a real prize winner.

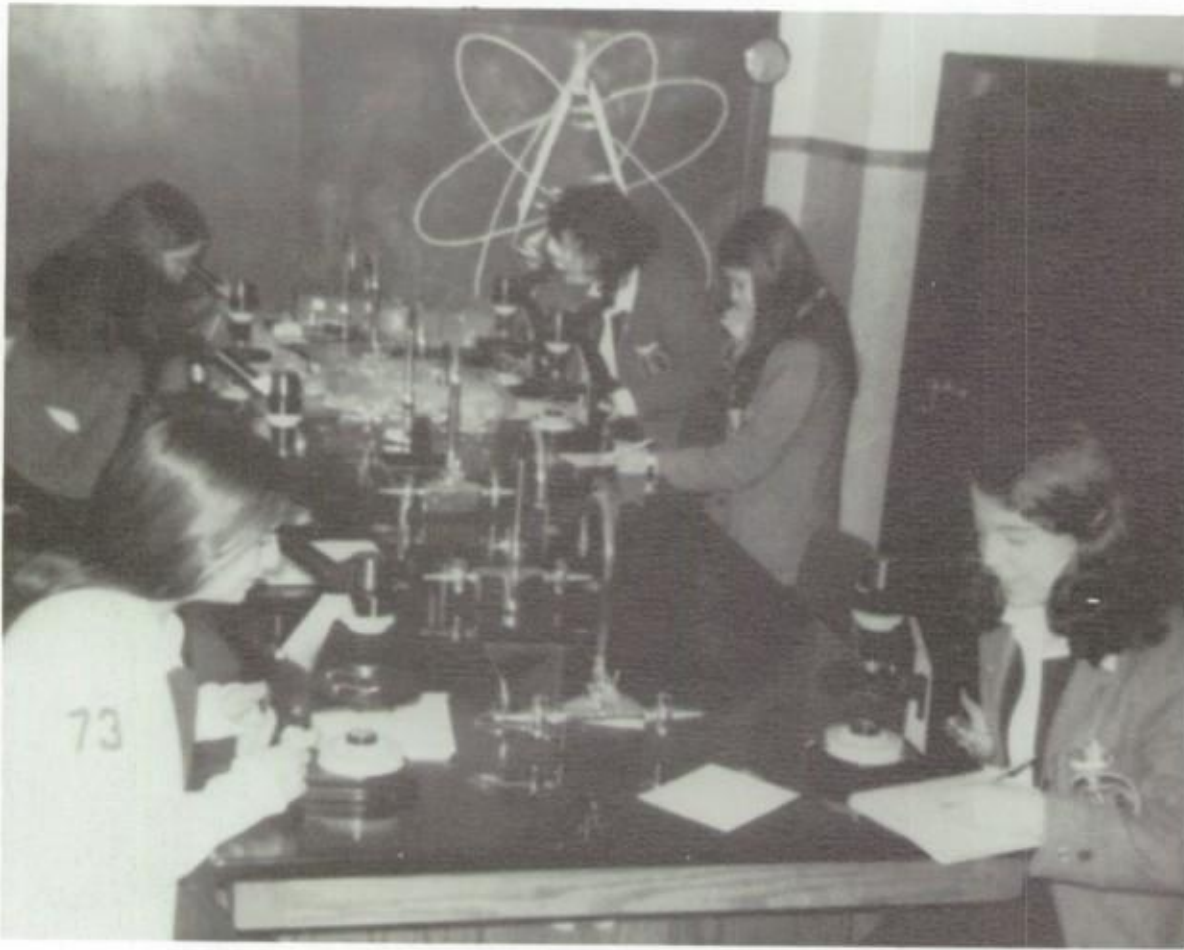

V. Marjonovic and C. Saputo submit their poster for Sister Edith's evaluation. It is beautiful, girls!

Here we are! Our talented young artists pose with their moderator, Sister Edith.

Science Club

C. Caruso and P. Reid look for the "microscopic" answer. Pat must have come up with something, judging from her smile.

Future scientists meander through the intriguing world of "mini-things." Interest is high and work just seems easier in a science club than in a regular science class. Sister Fanny patiently follows us as we work on our projects. The time and effort put into the club activities makes lighter the burden of our more serious subject matter.

Sister Fanny explains the process of distillation to D. Delaquis and J. Piscitelli.

C. Winberry and C. Sama listen closely. They are testing L. Fernandez's ability to explain the function of the eye.

They are a uniting force

Sister Julia passes B. Jones, the newly elected Student Council President, a lighted candle, symbol of her authority and responsibility.

Congratulations are in order as B. Jones receives R. Albacete's oath of office.

Student Council

Student Council moderator, Sister Cecilia, explains the duties of this office. Listening seriously are C. Kulik, Vice President, representatives I. Torres, D. Nahass, R. Albacete, N. Calandriello, J. Holloman, A. Soteriou and B. Jones, President.

Vice president C. Kulik pledges her oath before the image of Mary Help of Christians.

Their purpose — to help and guide the students throughout the years along with the help of the faculty. Their aim — to facilitate understanding between students and faculty. Yet, with this grave responsibility in mind, each student council member is friendly and open-minded to each student here at Mary Help. Though their burden be heavy, the smile and encouragement they radiate give us the heart to go on. And the studying and work become a little easier because they are here.

A year's experience behind her, J. Holloman steps forward confidently as a leader in her Sophomore class. She shares her responsibility with D. Nahass.

Irene Torres, one of our freshmen representatives is determined to see her class through to their goal of becoming full pledged S-ettes. Working with her is A. Soteriou. B. Jones hands her the lighted candle.

In earnest discussion on their way to class, the Student Council representatives reflect the earnest cooperation between faculty and students.

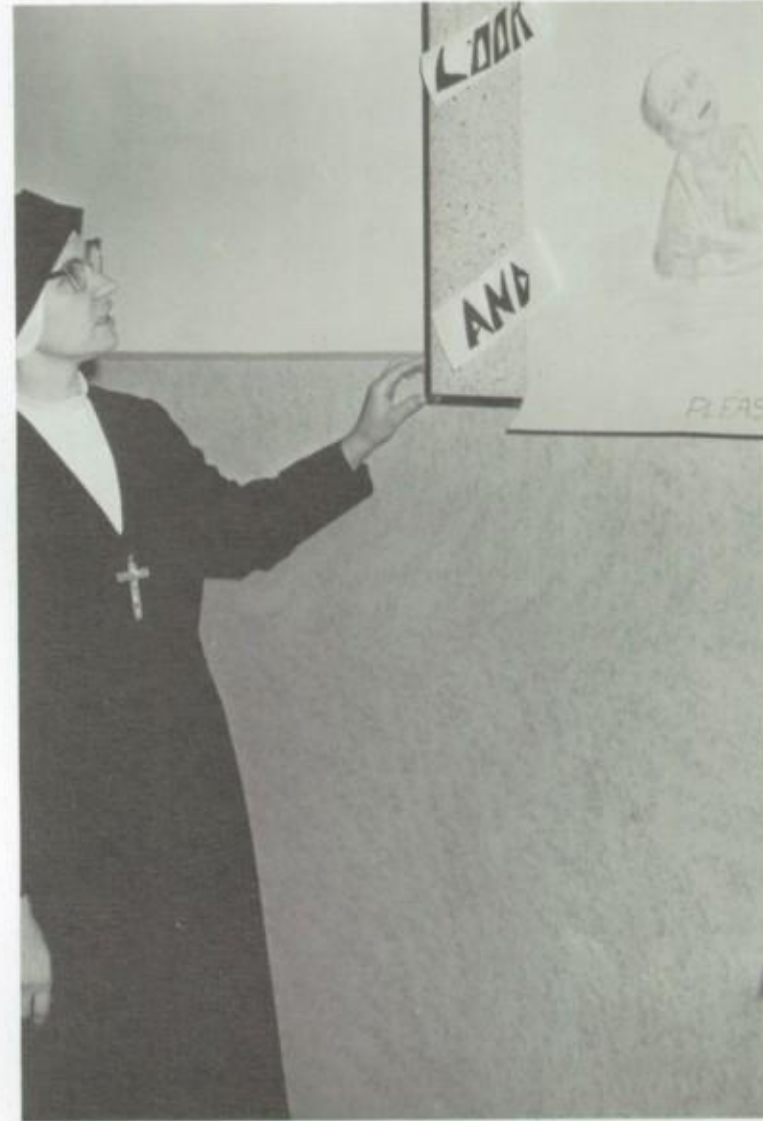

Learning effective self-expression

E. Salcedo does her interpretation of a poem while M. Del Pozo, M. Perez, L. Bernstein, R. Van Buren, A. Cubillos and L. Wilkins prepare to evaluate the presentation.

Public speaking requires much practice and poise. In our forensics club we learn the proper forms and acquire that ease and self-assurance so essential for effective speaking.

Forensics

Sister Theresa, our moderator, makes the work involved both challenging and interesting.

Here a group of members carry on a debate dealing with Capital Punishment. Members are: T. Allen, A. Soteriou, C. A. Mania, V. Marjonovic, D. Sproviere and C. Winberry — Pro, while M. Zuk, B. Grice, J. Holloman, I. Torres and V. Fernandez take the Con argument.

Special Services

Sister Anna prepares one of her delicious lunches for a starving crowd.

Providing tender loving care for disaster victims is the job of Sister Grace, our school nurse.

Mr. Vitale takes care of all the "heavy stuff."

We offer special thanks.

Dear Nattie,
 Its been nice knowing you this past year. Stay
 Sweet + Have Fun. Life lived with lots of love, laughter and learning.
 See ya next year!
 Love, Roe '75"

C. Perez dramatizes a joke most effectively for Sister Eileen and R. Di Marsico.

M. Rodriguez tries her luck at the pool table during her evening recreation.

Senior residents L. Torres and N. Roman seem to have found a place to rest their feet.

Residents

Entertainment is in order and M. Garcia and M. Perez are real "pros."

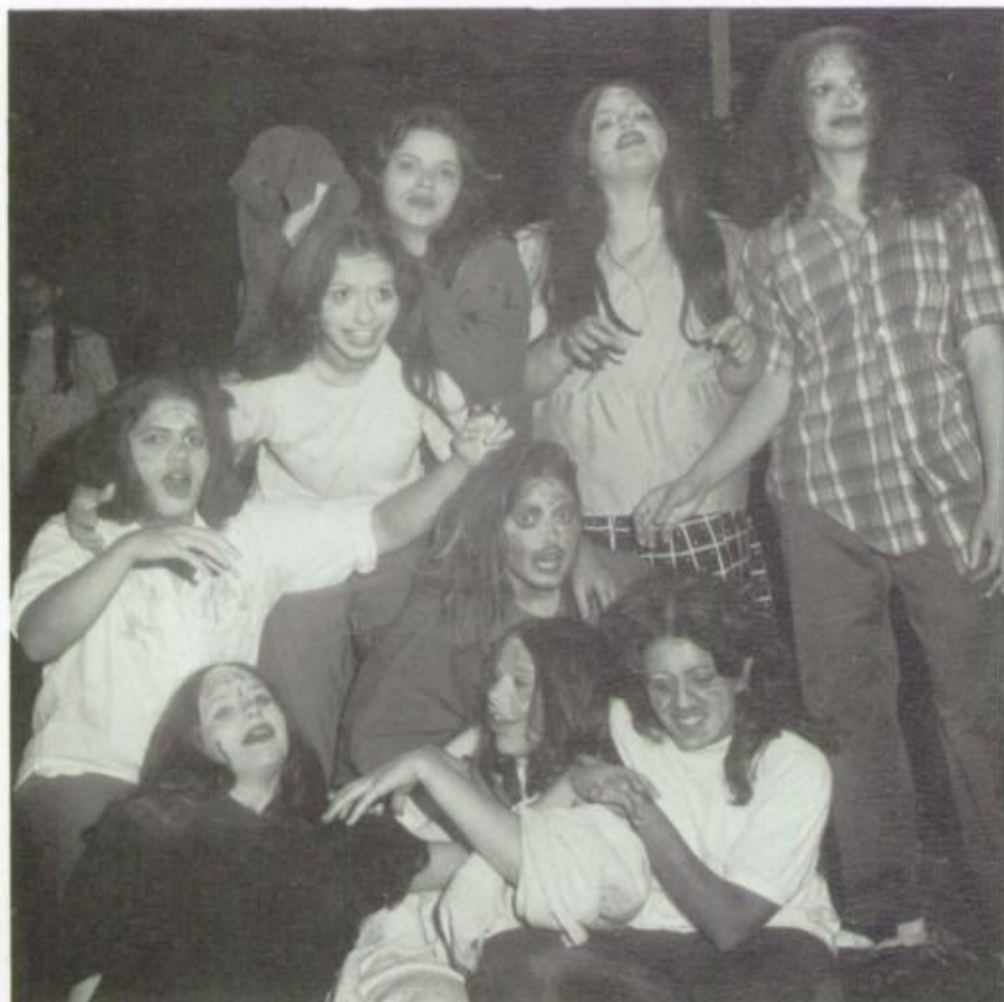

S. Castellano keeps the birdie in the air. During recreation she has plenty of opportunity for practice.

*Dear Katie,
you're a nice and sweet person. Keep it that way.
Love always

Our residents have brought a wide variety of backgrounds and cultures to our happy home here at M.H.C. After overcoming the initial stage of homesickness, they join wholeheartedly into the various activities, be it raking leaves, singing songs for each other and the Sisters, sponsoring a Halloween party or staging a show for any occasion. Sister Eileen makes sure they grow — "in wisdom, age, and grace." They're a happy bunch, our residents!

Always on the go, a group of residents develop their skills while enjoying each other's companionship.

There are too many to be Macbeth's witches, so they must be our Senior residents entertaining at a Halloween party.

D. Suriel offers her contribution to a program given for the Sisters. Here she sings "Fire and Rain," while J. Holloman plays her guitar in the background.

Varsity

"We can do it, I know we're going to," says F. Cingari as the team gets together and plans for another victory.

The S-ettes were infatigable in their relentless practice and playing. Their teamwork was the bending force which spurred them on in every game. Through hard work and an indomitable spirit, our varsity went from victory to victory under the guidance of their coach, Sister Ann. Not only did their games afford them an occasion to attain proficiency but was an aid for deepening their concept of sportsmanship.

"I should have put more power in that one," ponders this S-ette after passing the ball during a fast moving game.

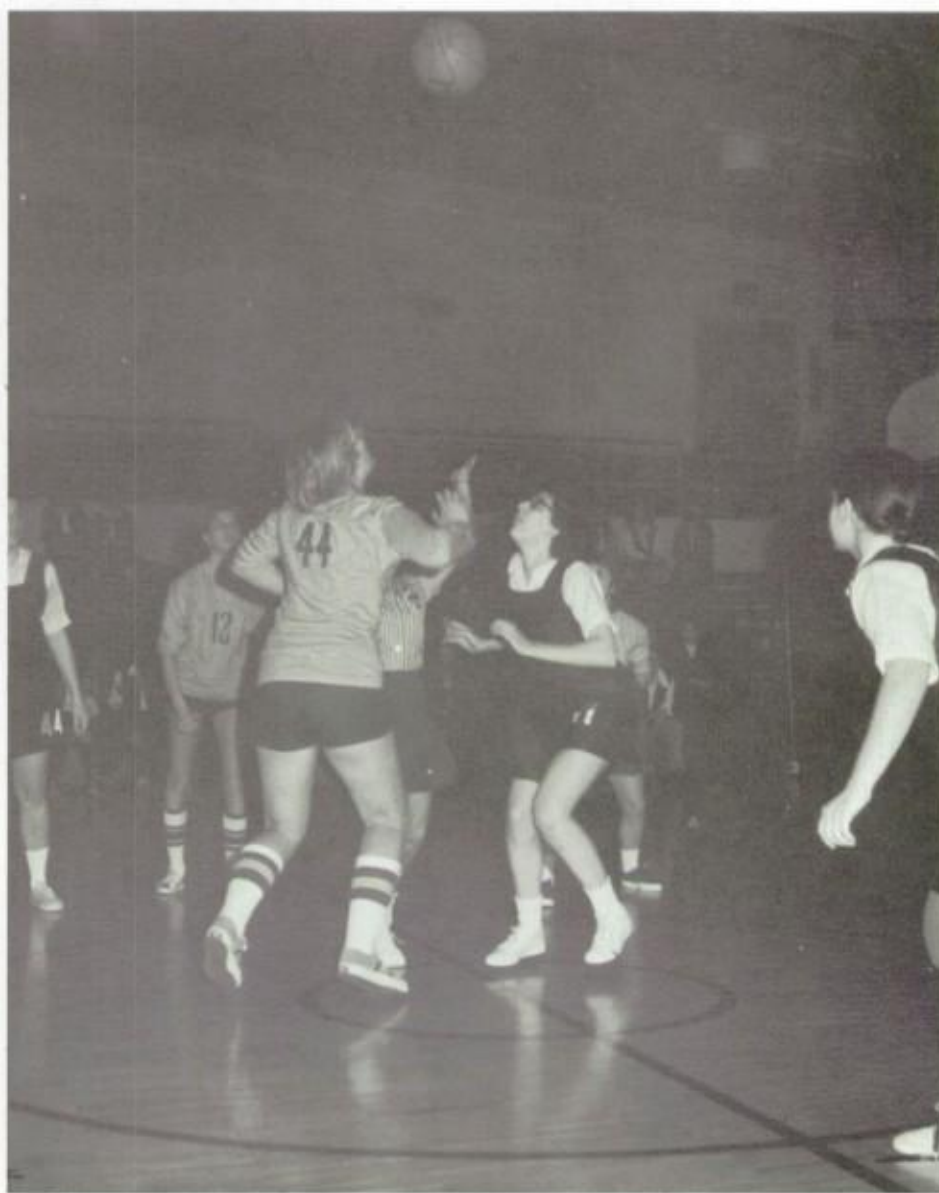

"Good, she fouled you. Now all you have to do is get the foul shot in." M. Montesdeoca listens to L. Radice's words of wisdom.

Our Lady is the S-ettes' invisible team mate. Right now they are praying to her, for she is their powerful source of energy and spirit which turns even the defeats into victories.

Skillful Players

"Higher, higher. Jump higher." The girls are anxiously waiting to put that ball through the basket after the tap from their team mate.

The S-ettes of 1972: First row: S. De Marco, F. Cingari, Sister Ann, M. Montesdeoca, L. Radice. Second row: J. Holloman, D. Le Reste, L. Rivera, M. Portillo, V. Fernandez, C. McVeigh, M. Brito. Third row: L. Bernstein, J. Nicolosi, M. Meneses, I. Torres, M. Tumalty, D. Lyness. E. Salcedo is missing.

An important element for a well played game is the good spirit of those on the bench. It is their encouraging support which leads the S-ettes to fight till the last minute.

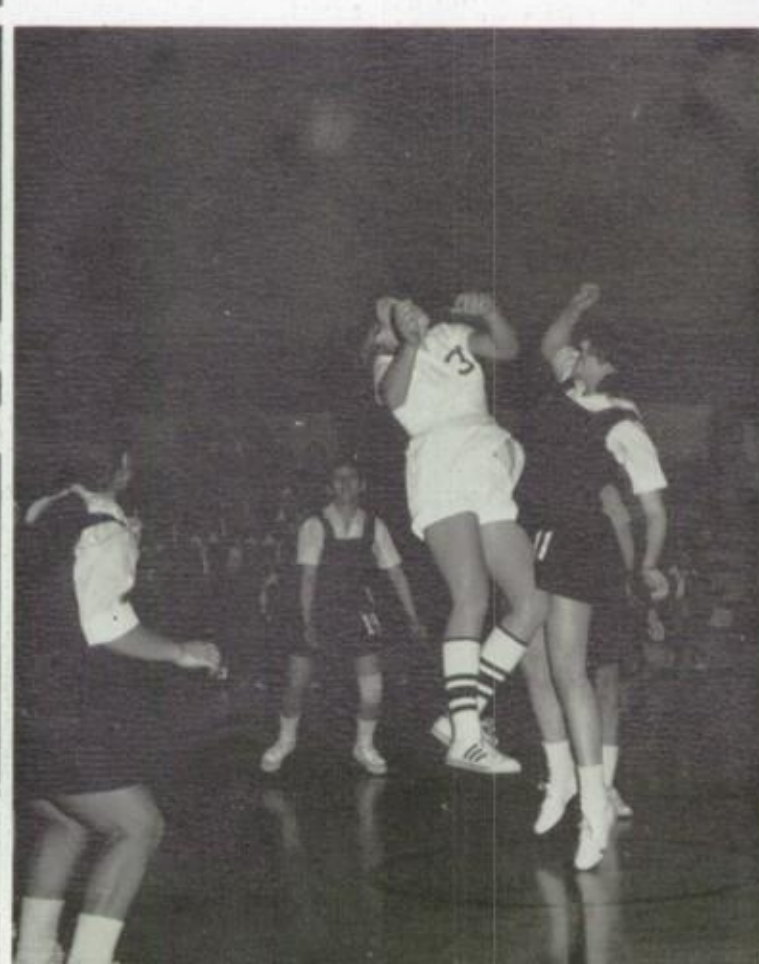

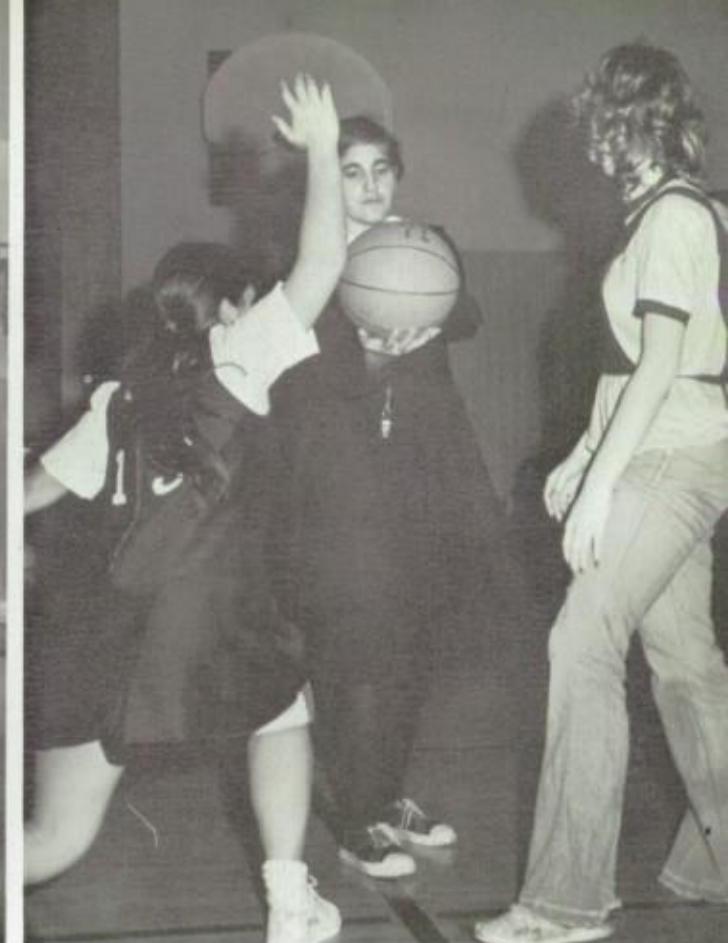

L. Radice taking aim for a foul shot, confident that she will "sink it."

Lively energetic, fun-loving...

Our S-ettes are the best.

Sister Ann and M. Montesdeoca watch F. Cingari as she marks the '72 basketball which, in turn, marks the beginning of a new season.

The Sophomores cheer their classmates on during a close softball game. Our "little sisters" are noted for their exuberance.

The Juniors will not let themselves be out-done by the Sophs. They came close to taking the spirit award away from the Sophomores who had won it as Freshmen also.

R. Albacete holds the bat securely ready to send that ball flying into the out field. She will make it home.

Intramurals Basketball

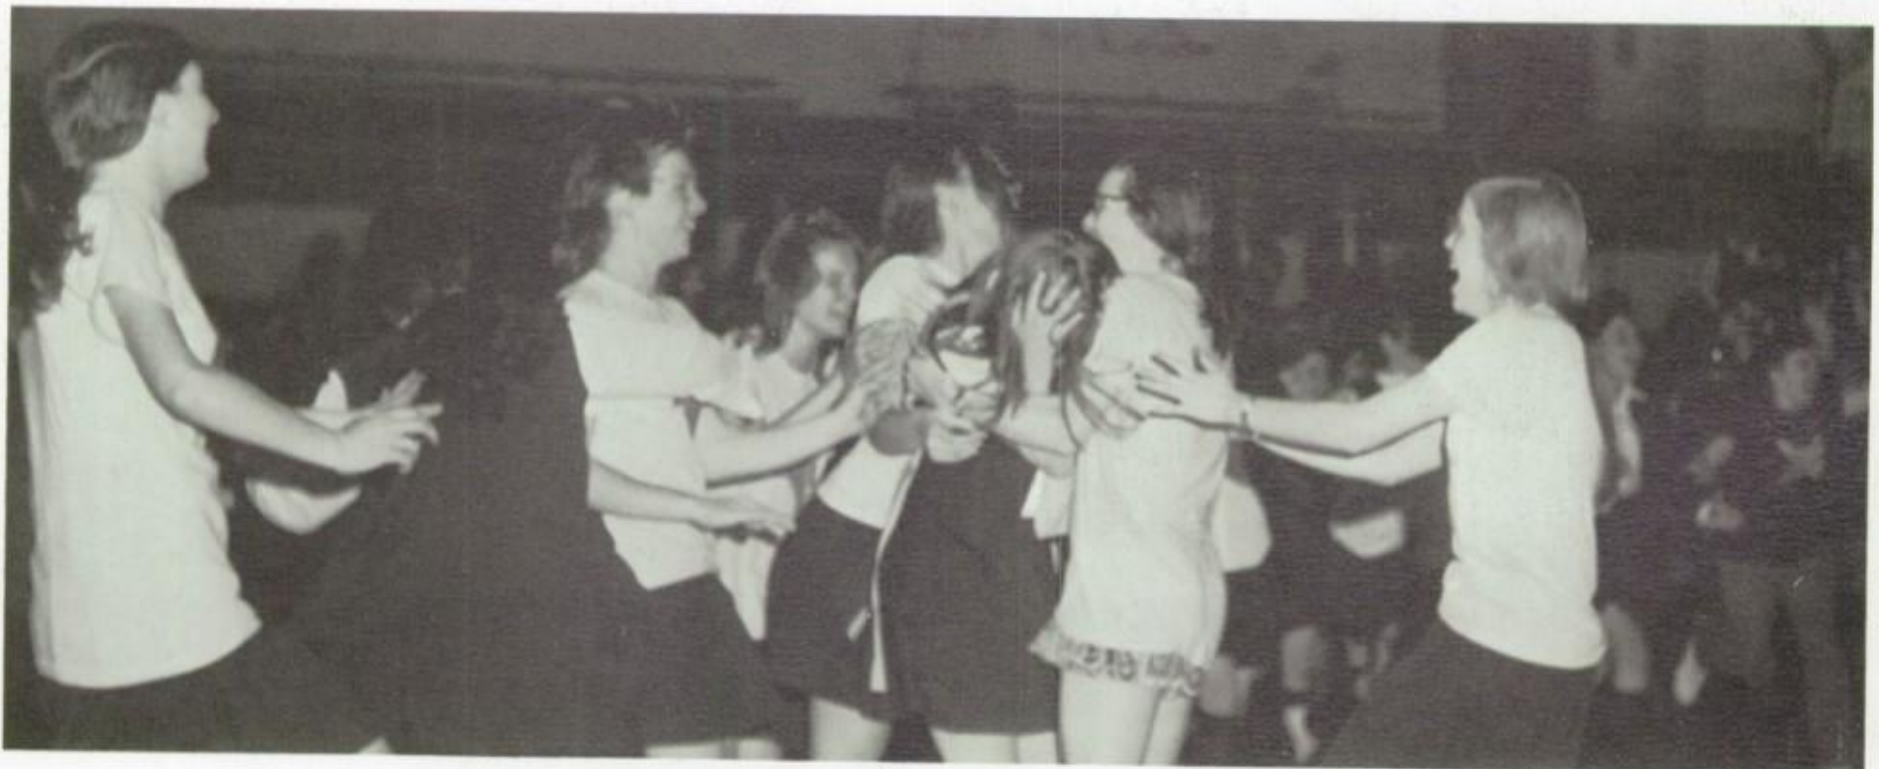

Cheers echoed and re-echoed throughout the gym as each class held high hopes for victory. Whether the vehicle was basketball, volleyball or softball, the players fought hard to lay the claim to the respective trophies for their class.

The expression on their faces denotes the tension during a close game. Excitement is high and spirits are soaring.

"Are you sure?" P. Hadley, D. Saillant and M. Tumalty look puzzled during a decisive basketball game.

"We did it, we won!" proclaim some enthusiastic Juniors after a victorious game.

Intramurals Volleyball

C. Twitty serves the volleyball confident that her aim is sure.

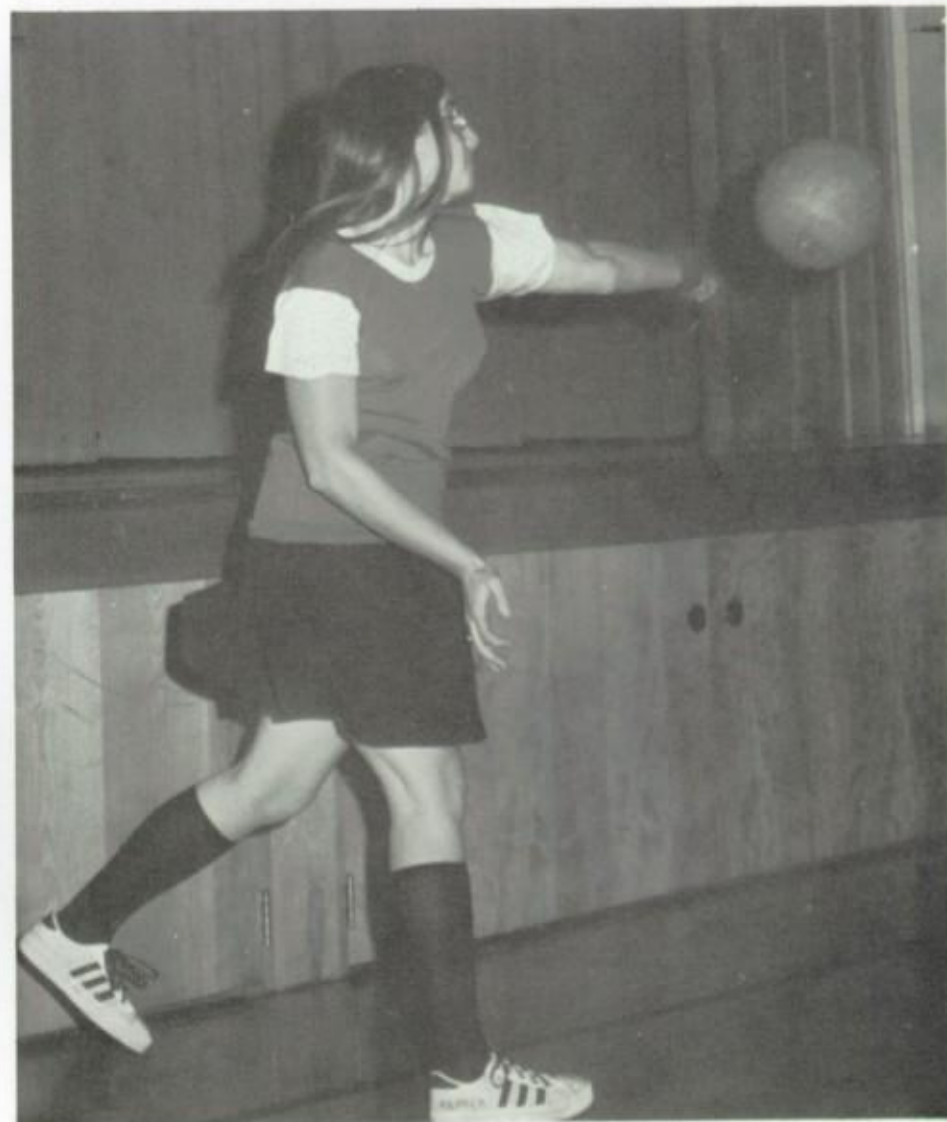

C. McVeigh receives the trophy of Volleyball Intramurals for the Sophomores.

Capable players go out for their class for victory

Much spirit was added to our games through the involvement of all the girls. Their cheers were an encouraging force.

J. Klepper takes aim for another point for the Seniors.

They appear to be energetic but who is going to stop first, C. Santana or D. Fowlkes?

Activity period always finds a large group of energetic, happy girls trying their hand at the various sports offered in our gym under the supervision of Sister Ann. Bowling, dancing, and any number of games enable us to develop skill and a real sense of sportsmanship.

A happy crowd cheering their team on to victory.

"Oh, I got it!" A worn-out line used during an exciting basketball game.

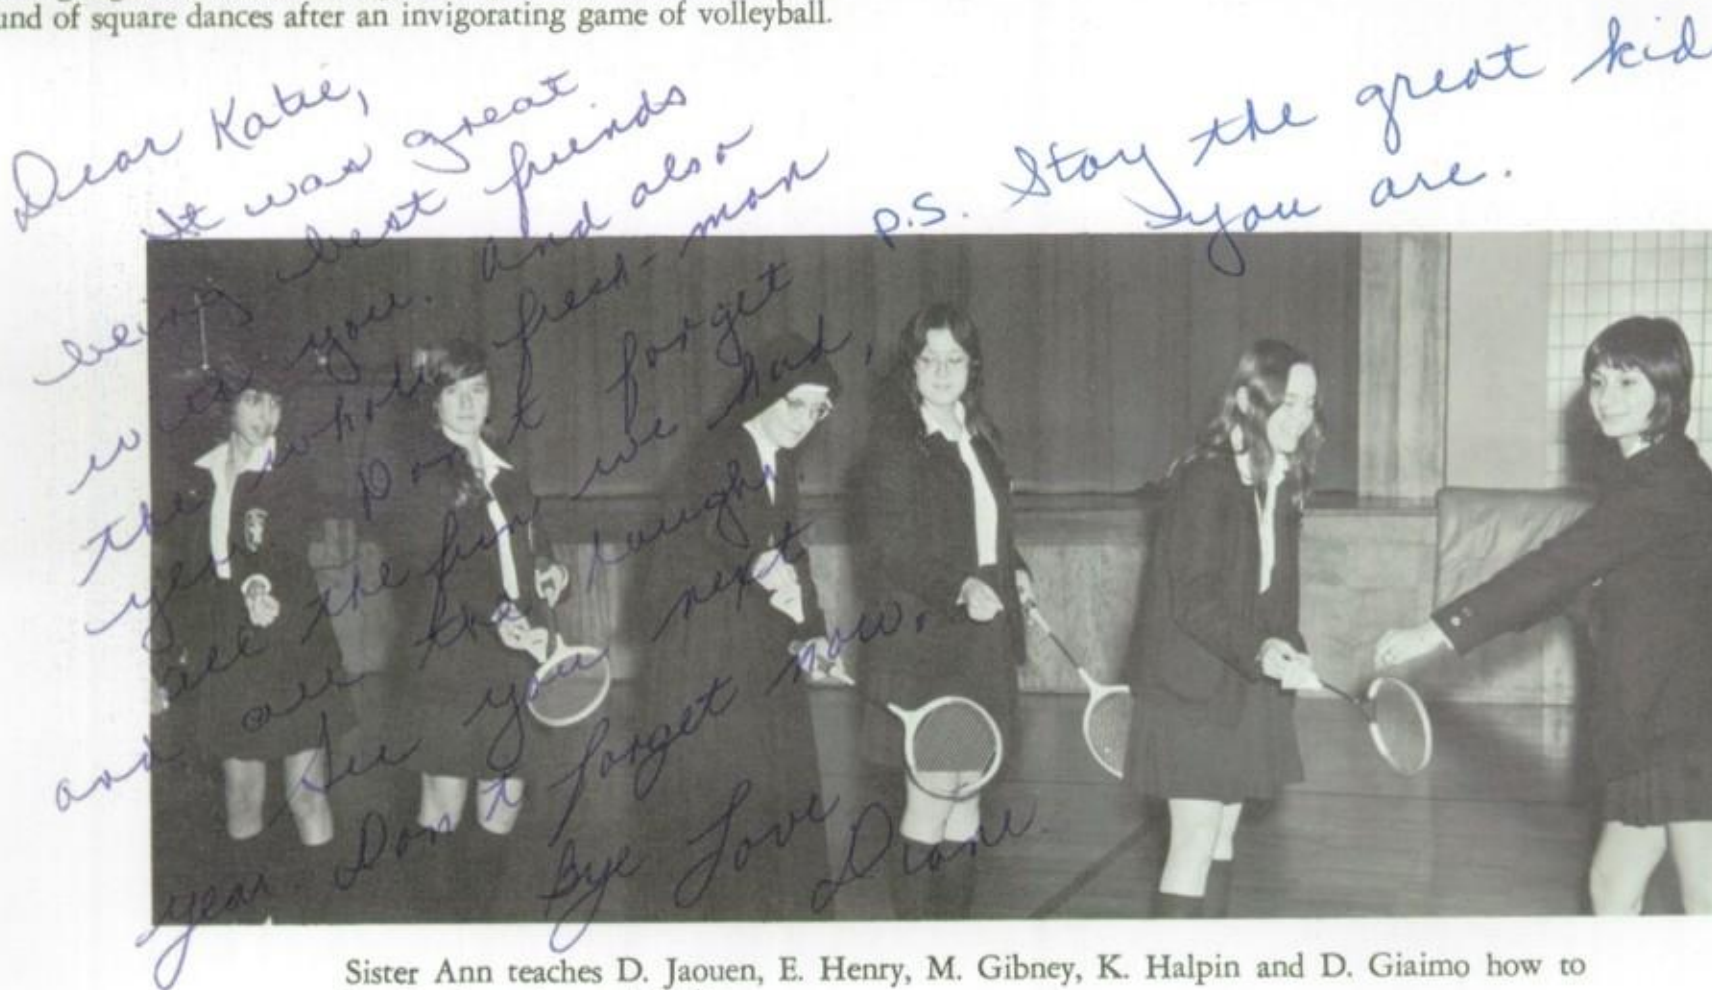

The highlight of Mother-Daughter night culminated in a fast round of square dances after an invigorating game of volleyball.

Players are intense and excitement is high as this energetic group of Juniors and Sophomores fight for victory!

Experiencing union through total involvement

Sister Ann teaches D. Jaouen, E. Henry, M. Gibney, K. Halpin and D. Giaimo how to handle the racket and birdie.

There's nothing like a good game of volleyball to liven us up.

Leads to attainment

of real maturity

"It looks like a strike!" That is what C. Napodano, C. Miranda and H. Rojas are hoping for but E. Blewitt and D. Le Reste don't like the idea too much.

H. Wilhelm as she leaps for the broad jump. Where she'll land nobody knows.

Hey, where did the rest of the team go!

Cheerleading

Adding life and spirit to our team, our cheerleaders manage to arouse even the most quiet of girls and involve them in all the yelling and screaming for victory. Their support and encouragement were an indispensable asset to our team. Much credit for our victories goes to them.

Holding the last step of their rousing cheer are D. Delaquis, M. Fitzgerald, D. Fowlkes, L. Radice and S. Recker.

Giving the team strength and spirit are M. Fitzgerald and D. Mininni.

"Let's go S-ettes!" shout P. Hadley and L. Radice. The light in Laurie's eyes bespeaks victory.

M. Perez, M. E. Chiari, D. Mininni, D. Delaquis, S. Recker, L. Radice and M. Fitzgerald make up one of our most vibrant, encouraging, cheering forces at every M.H.C.A. game, home and away!

Our "Lambkins" keep spirits high.

"Right-on to victory, S-ettes!" cheers D. Delaquis as she gives vent to her untamed exuberance.

The S-ette cheerleaders urge their team on to victory while beating a spirited rhythm.

SENIORS

SO MUCH OF LIFE AHEAD.

We've only just begun to live
 White lace and promises
 A wish for luck and we're on our way
 We've only just begun . . .
 And when evening comes — we smile
 So much of life ahead
 We'll find a place where there's room to grow
 And, yes, we've just begun.

"They don't know a good buy when they see one," points out V. Fontana. M. Sanislo, B. Hazen, A. Fitzmaurice, J. Hahn and J. Klepper await their auctioning on "Senior Slave Day."

This is "Night at the Opera," M.H.C.A. style. M. Manuel, S. Mesa, J. Matas, V. Rocco, R. Nahass and D. Gegarian.

Spontaneity is characteristic of L. Torres. Here she gives full vent to her amusement unaware that this moment has been captured for keeps.

B. Bak is at it again! Whoever it is, she has the far-away look in her eyes!

D. Ryan, E. Martinez, C. Verhulst and K. De Nova exchange the latest gossip during a break between classes.

C. Gil has enjoyed her lunch judging from the plates on her tray. L. Perigny is lost in thought.

We, the Freshman Class of 1975 wish to express our gratitude to the Senior Class of 1972 for all that they have done for us. Though you shall be missed by us all, we wish you luck in future years and hope that those years may be as successful as you have made this first one for us.

Sincerely,

From

The Record Family

I'd like to be the sort of friend
that you have been to me,
I'd like to be the help
that you are always glad to be,
I'd like to mean as much to you
each minute of the day
As you have meant, Good Friend of Mine,
to me along the way;
I'm wishing at this special time that I could but repay
A portion of the gladness that you've strewn along my way,
And could I have one wish this year
this only would it be
I'd like to be the sort of friend
that you have been to me!
